Journalist-Legislator Told in Senate That Reporters Ought to Be Allowed to "Enlarge Testimony."

By Associated Press.

Washington, Feb. 12.—When the senate convened today Mr. Turner (Wash.) presented a memorial from the National Anti-Trust League commending certain views and complaints which the memorial set forth, were operating in conflict with the Sherman anti-trust law.

He said the petition stated the existence of large sums collected from trusts had been called to the attention of the attorney-general of the United States with a request that the machinery of the government be set in motion with the view of the destruction of the trusts, but nothing far nothing had been done. The petition prayed that congress take action in vindication of its law.

Mr. Turner said the memorial contained also some allegations against the present attorney-general and his immediate predecessor, but he did not wish to be understood as fathering the charges. He asked that the memorial be printed in the congressional record. Mr. Hollinger (N. H.) objected and the printing was not ordered.

A bill to ratify an act of the legislative assembly of Arizona providing for a display from Arizona at the international exposition to be held at St. Louis was passed.

At the conclusion of routine business the senate resumed consideration of the Philippine tariff bill. Mr. Teller continued his speech began on Monday. He said that no nation would contest with the United States the right to govern the Philippine islands or to subjugate the inhabitants. He regarded it certain that the islands would continue to be held by the United States for four years, perhaps longer. In his judgment, the United States was not morally in possession of the islands. He thought, when the United States government entered the islands the Filipinos were on the point of achieving their independence from Spain. In view of the fact they could not be considered now as guilty, technically, of treason against the United States.

In response to questions made during the debate of yesterday Mr. Teller asserted that the prominent commanders of the American army did not agree with the conclusions reached by the members of the Philippine commission as to the conduct of the people of the Philippines. He mentioned among others the name of General Chaffee.

Mr. Proctor (Vt.) interrupted to say that today he had received a letter from General Chaffee in the course of which he expressed his views upon the situation in the islands. The letter was dated at Manila on December 27, 1901. General Chaffee said:

"I may say to you that we are progressing very well in stamping out the insurrection and in the course of two or three months we will have the situation well in hand."

General Chaffee believed that in a short time the Filipinos would become tired of the struggle and they certainly would not need good before the American army did. He regarded it as a fair indication that the element of Filipinos who heretofore had been neutral now were actively endeavoring to induce the insurgents to lay down their arms.

Mr. Hoar suggested there was a difference between the attempting out of the insurrection and accepting of the Filipinos by American control.

Further along Mr. Spooner interposed to inquire:

"Has the government of the United States done anything in the Philippine islands which meets the approval of the senator as just and beneficent?"

"We have done many beneficent things there," replied Mr. Teller. "We have accomplished some things with a beneficent object, but I am here to complain of the things we ought not to do. I am not here as a fault-finder, as intimated. I am here as an American citizen and either the senator from Wisconsin does not recognize that too or he thinks I don't."

In the course of his argument Mr. Teller paid a high tribute to the statesmanship which dictated the policy of the United States in China during the trouble two years ago. He did not know whether that policy originated with the late President McKinley or with Secretary Hay but its wisdom has been established and the whole world has been placed under obligation to the United States for its action. He added: "I believe, said he, that if there could be as much statesmanship and wisdom and mercy applied to this Philippine trouble as should be able to get out of it with honor."

Mr. Teller quoted newspaper and magazine articles to show the cruelties and tortures were applied to Filipino insurgents with a view to forcing them to reveal the hiding places of their rifles. The particular torture upon which the Colorado senator dwelt was the water cure. In this authority he was at variance with Mr. Teller that of the Filipinos to whom the water cure had been applied all but 26 had died from its effects.

"If these statements are not true," said the senator, the American government owes it to itself that they are proved to be untrue. I would be glad to know that they are a slander against our army."

Mr. Bacon also suggested that it might not be proper to charge the American army with these cruelties. The torture were practiced, he thought, generally by the native officials employed and perhaps by some of the more vicious elements of the army who were afforded opportunity by the presence of the army in the Philippines to turn into effect their vicious instincts.

Mr. Tillman interrupted Mr. Teller to inquire of Mr. Bacon if he was in sympathy with the conclusion on Philippine whether it had been charged in some quarter that that committee was responsible for the investigation of the Philippines in a court of star chamber.

Mr. Bacon replied that he had no special information.

Mr. Lodge replied with some vehemence that that was an idle story; that reports of three press associations were admitted to the investigation and that their reports were left out to all the newspapers of the country. It has been decided by the committee not to admit all newspaper men to the hearings because the committee room was totally inadequate for the accommodation of the public. Mr. Tillman insisted that the reports sent out were garbled and colored.

"That is not true, in my judgment," said Mr. Lodge. "That is simply a charge that all of these great news associations send out garbled and colored reports."

Mr. Patterson said that when the Philippine committee had the matter of the hearings under consideration it was his recollection that the chairman (Mr. Lodge) had suggested that no members of the press at all be admitted to the meetings.

"I never made such a suggestion—never," interjected Mr. Lodge warmly.

"And I object to such statements as that made by the senator."

"Notwithstanding," continued Mr. Patterson, "I reiterate my statement."

"I ask the senator," interrupted Mr. Lodge, "if he reiterates the statement that I suggested that the press be excluded."

"That is my recollection," replied Mr. Patterson.

"Well," protested Mr. Lodge, "I have denied that statement most emphatically."

Mr. Hoar raised the point of order that committee discussions were not proper subjects of comment in the senate and the point was sustained.

Mr. Patterson then made an argument in support of opening the committee hearings in the Philippine investigation to all the members of the press. By such an arrangement, he said, the country would receive every phase and color of the investigation and correspondents would be afforded an opportunity to enlarge and offer suggestions concerning the testimony. He agreed with the complaining newspapers that the committee room was conducting in a sense a star chamber hearing.

A communication was received from the secretary of war transmitting to the senate a memorial from leaders of the Federal party in the Philippines in support of American rule in the Philippines.

Mr. Bear, disclaiming any desire to precipitate a debate at this time, remarked sarcastically that the memorial was "a pretty good commentary" on the statute of the Philippine commission which prohibited the promulgation by any society of any great opinion of policy. He said it appeared lawful under the acts of the commission to publish political opinion when three members of the Philippine commission were opposed to it and that publication be accompanied by an expression of marvelous admiration for the commission itself.

They tell us, he remarked in conclusion, that the Filipinos do not want independence when it is plain that the authorities a penitentiary offense to express any desire for independence."

Mr. Patterson thought the senate ought to understand the special significance of the document presented by the Federal party. He declared that it might be considered as an utterance of three members of the Philippine commission. He said that Governor Taft had stated before the Philippine commission that the Federal party had been one of the principal in the efforts to bring peace to the islands. As the Federal party had been the chief instrument in securing the consent of many Filipinos to American rule and control in the islands, it was important to understand what the party was and what inducements it was holding out to the Filipinos.

"The Federal party has met whatever success it has achieved," he asserted, "under a declaration that it stands for the supremacy of the islands in the American union."

He insisted that if the Republican leaders should say that it was not their intention to give the Philippines statehood the Filipinos who now were advocates of the American control would insert themselves into rats leave a sinking ship.

As he understood the matter, it was the purpose of the majority leaders to hold the Philippines as colonies. Let that be announced as a fact, said he, and it would be a signal for a hand-to-hand struggle in the islands over to anarchy and chaos. The Federal party, he said, had told the Filipinos that there would be no colonial government in the archipelago but that they would be admitted as soon as possible into the American union.

The senate, at 5 o'clock, went into executive session and five minutes later adjourned.

NOTABLE CELEBRATION

By Associate Press.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—Memorial exercises in honor of Abraham Lincoln were held here today on a scale surpassing that of any previous local celebration of the anniversary of his birth.

Appropriate exercises were held in the schools, all of the public buildings save the postoffice were closed and no business was transacted, as any of the banks, on the board of trade or on the stock exchange. A large number of business houses were also closed during the afternoon. In the evening there were a number of banquets at which the speakers for the most part dealt with some phase of the life of Lincoln. The largest of these affairs was held in the home of the Marquette club where at least 700 members of the club gathered to listen to addresses.

The whole train left the tracks and ran for 20 car lengths, final by topping over into a ditch. Twenty-one persons were injured, but none were killed.

The cause of the wreck is said to have been spreading rails. Most of the injured were in the coach next to the rear. The rear coach was the private car of Joseph Ramsay, president of the Wabash railroad. His car did not topple over, but the car in front did. Mr. Ramsay was not hurt.

NEW CHAIRMAN OF STATE REPUBLICANS

D. B. Fairley of Colorado Springs Elected in Second Ballot.

ALL OPPONENTS WITHDREW

State Central Committee Adopts Rules Submitted With Slight Changes—The Other Day Business.

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, Feb. 12.—Hon. D. B. Fairley of Colorado Springs was today elected chairman of the Republican state central committee. His election was unanimous. All the other candidates withdrew from the race before the nominations began.

Over 100 of the 124 committeemen were present when Secretary W. H. Brisbane called the session to order at 11 o'clock. The first order of business was the selection of a chairman, which was done with haste. Mr. Fairley made a neat speech thanking the committee for the honor after which a committee of five was appointed to draft rules for the government of the party during the coming year. The rules as drafted by the special committee appointed some time ago were referred to today's committee. An adjournment was then taken until 2 p. m.

At the afternoon session of the committee the rules as reported by the special committee appointed by Mr. Ford were read and after some changes had been made were adopted.

One of the changes provides that the county central committee can fill vacancies in the state central committee rather than the state central committee fill them.

The rules were also so changed that the district committees of Arapahoe county can discharge members rather than allow the county central committee to discharge them.

That portion of the rules which provides for a caucus before the primaries was entirely eliminated.

After the state central committee had adjourned the Republican ladies of Denver tendered the visiting ladies a reception in the parlors of the Brown hotel.

The report which was given out by Mr. Cortelyou at 9 o'clock tonight was the last of the four issued during the day, none of which was of a discouraging or unfavorable nature. The first came early in the morning and stated that the night had been a good one, and this was confirmed later, after the morning examinations by the physicians, and in addition it was said that should the favorable condition continue for 48 hours the danger would be past.

Again at 3 o'clock word came that the status of the case was unchanged, but that the conditions continued favorable. At that time, however, no mention was made as to whether the crisis had been passed or was near. But after the examination by the doctors tonight, Secretary Cortelyou said that the crisis in the right lung—that in the left having been passed—would probably be reached by tomorrow night. So confident are the president and his wife that their son will pass through this crisis in good shape that the president is already making some slight preparations to leave for Washington. Tonight it looks as if he might start sometime Friday. Every one at the Gardner house tonight seemed not only cheerful but jovial, while Mrs. Roosevelt, cheered and comforted by a short but impressive service at 6 o'clock in the chapel, went to her nightly watch in the infirmary in good spirits.

The 9 o'clock report of the boy's condition was the most important one of the day. Mr. Cortelyou said, in addition to what has already been stated, that the left lung had cleared considerably during the day and that the boy's temperature, respiration and pulse had shown little variation. Everything during the day has gone on well. The clearing up of the left lung is a favorable sign, in that it will enable the boy to meet the crisis in the right lung better.

What is known as resolution has set in in this left lung.

In speaking of other things beside the boy's condition, Mr. Cortelyou said that no change had been made in the program of Prince Henry's visit, in fact, invitations to dinner were going out at Washington. The president will not give up his trip to Charleston, but will go there after Prince Henry leaves.

In many ways the day was less eventful than that which preceded it and all the reports, as has been said, were favorable. Still the seriousness of not only young Roosevelt's condition but that of his two companions was tonight fully as great as ever, when the closeness to the impending crisis in each case is taken into consideration.

By 11 o'clock every one in the infirmary seemed to have gone to rest save the nurses in the sick room, the watchman in the yard below and a couple of newspaper men outside on the frozen roads.

Quite unexpectedly, Mr. Cortelyou made a sick room report at 11 o'clock, saying that the boy was sleeping quietly and that the situation was unchanged.

LEGISLATURE AND THE TAXATION OF MORTGAGES

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, Feb. 12.—The principle feature of today's work in the assembly was the adoption by the house of a section providing for the taxation of all mortgages not held on Colorado property.

At the opening of the morning session Representative Briscoe again introduced the resolution, which stated that it was the sense of the house that the assembly should enact the revenue measure and go home. The measure and go home resolution was lost.

The house went into committee of the whole and took up section 1 of the revenue bill. Mr. Slingerland, of Park, urged that mortgages should be taxed. A vote had not been taken when the noon hour arrived.

A call of the house was had after the recess, and a full attendance was secured. The speaker urged members to devote more time to the work of the committee of the whole. "If our business is to be expedite it will require the attendance of every member," said he.

Mr. Eaches was brought to the bar of the house and pleaded as an excuse for being late that he had to entertain a constituent, he was excused. Members Schweigert, Cannon, Lukens, Dinkle and Harris were arraigned.

"The call of the house means something," said the speaker. "What are your excuses."

"I had to purchase a pair of shoes," said Mr. Harris and with this all were discharged.

The committee of the whole resumed its session and the discussion of section 14 was resumed. Some of the members urged that mortgages should not be taxed, while insecured notes should be assessed.

Judge Schweigert opposed the proposition and held that all notes should be exempted or all taxed.

Mr. Adams stated that 20 counties had taxed mortgages and 37 counties had exempted them.

Speaker Montgomery supported Mr. Adams. All the lawyers agree that the section is unconstitutional," insisted Mr. Hollinger. The committee voted against the Adams amendments, which could have compelled the taxation of mortgages. The amendment by Mr. Mattson was adopted. It made it clear that only mortgages on Colorado property were exempted.

Mr. McGuire moved that sections 18 and 19 be stricken out. They provided that the clerks of the court of appeals and supreme court should collect $5 from each litigant upon the filing of all cases and that the clerks of district and county courts should collect $1 from each litigant.

Mr. Cannon offered an amendment to section 20 exempting druggists who sell liquors for medicinal purposes from the $25 liquor fee charged by the state. Mr. Hawaii opposed the amendment.

Neither the McGuire nor the Cannon amendments prevailed.

The senators assembled at 10 o'clock, listened to a number of jaw and Buckskin joint resolutions and adjourned. There is nothing for the upper house to do until the lower body has completed the revenue bill. A number of the senators are regular visitors in the house of representatives and they are paying the closest attention to the discussion as it proceeds on the revenue bill.

Representative Riley will tomorrow introduce a resolution providing for the discharge of 30 of the 45 house employees who have been entirely idle since the beginning of the session. There is nothing for them to do, and no prospect of work more than sufficient to occupy the 12 remaining employees during the rest of the session.

HOUSE MODIFIED THE OLEOMARGARINE BILL

By Associated Press.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The house today passed the oleomargarine bill. There was no division on the final passage, the real test of strength having been made on a motion to recommit which was defeated by a majority of 34. The provision to require the inspection and branding of renovated butter which was adopted in committee of the whole yesterday was retained today on a aye and nay vote.

As finally passed the bill is somewhat modified from the form in which it was reported from the committee. It makes no oleomargarine butter or cheese transported into any state or territory for use, sale or consumption therein, subject to the laws of such states or territories, notwithstanding that it may be introduced in original packages, and imposes a tax of 10 cents per pound on oleo made in imitation of "butter or any shade of yellow." When not made in such imitation the tax is reduced one-fourth of one cent per pound. The second section is intended to prevent dealers, hotel proprietors, restaurant and boarding house keepers from coloring the uncolored article by masking any person who colors the product and then sells or furnishes to others, a manufacturer within the meaning of the act. The penalties for violation of the act are not less than $50 or more than $2500 and imprisonment for not less than 30 days nor more than six months. The new section relating to the inspection and branding of renovated butter is as follows:

"That the secretary of agriculture is hereby authorized and required to cause a gilt sanitary inspect on to be made from time to time and at such times as he may deem necessary of all factories and storehouses where butter is renovated, and all butter renovated at such places shall be carefully inspected in the same manner and to the same extent and purpose that meat products are now inspected. The quantity and quality of butter renovated shall be recorded, and all renovated butter shall be designated as such by marks, brands and stamps and the words 'renovated butter' shall be printed on all packages thereof, in such manner as may be prescribed by the secretary of agriculture and shall be sold only as renovated butter. No renovated butter shall be shipped or transported from one state to another, or to foreign countries unless inspected as provided in this section."

War claims occupied the attention of the house after the passage of the oleo. bill and the day was made notable for the passage of the bill for the payment of United States citizens arising out of the Spanish war. It carried something over $55,000 for the payment of 202 claims for property taken within the United States for the use of the army.

An omnibus bill carrying claims aggregating $2,[illegible] for stores and supplies taken from loyal citizens during the civil war also was passed. These claims were allowed under the provision of the Bowman act and the bill was drafted with one passed by the house at the last session.

Two other bills which have been before congress for 38 years, to refer certain claims for accidents compensation by the railways of certain monitors during the civil war to the court of claims were passed.

THE CRISIS FOR YOUNG ROOSEVELT COMES TODAY

By Associated Press.

Groton, Mass., Feb. 12.—If Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., continues for the next 24 hours in his present condition his physicians have given the president and Mrs. Roosevelt to believe that his death is probability will be sufficient for him to lie and pass successfully the crisis in his disease, which is nearer for one than tomorrow night, and that on Friday morning he will be practically out of danger.

Tonight he is considered to be better than last night, when the same can be said of the two [illegible], Edward S. Parker, of Boston, and William Cowles, of New York.

TO INVESTIGATE COST OF CUBAN SUGAR MAKING

By Associated Press.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Chairman Payne today presented to the ways and means committee a brief submitted by the American beet sugar interests and endorsed by the cane sugar interests declaring that the recent hearings had shown that sugar was now being made in Cuba at a profit and asking that a special committee proceed to Cuba to investigate the question of cost of production, profit, etc. Mr. Payne explained to his colleagues that he had yesterday denied the existence of such a proposed trip to Cuba, as the brief had not been signed by the cane sugar interests until this morning.

Representative Steel of Indiana asked if the invitation to go to Cuba included payment of expenses of the trip, to which Representative Robertson of Louisiana answered that the expenses of them will be included if possible.

The brief sums up the hearing at considerable length and states that if the testimony of the government experts is correct then the military governor of Cuba, General Wood, "has been misinformed, and sugar is now being manufactured and sold in Cuba at a profit, so that there exists no possible justification for the reduction of the present tariff on unrefine sugar coming from Cuba upon the ground that the Cuban planters are now manufacturing sugar at a loss."

KEEPING FOR COLORADO ATHLETES

The Colorado college athletes were given a reception yesterday afternoon at South hall by Professor and Mrs. L. A. E. Ahlers. The reception was given in honor of "J. Mahon of Boston, the patron saint of college baseball."

The case of Violette Jackson against the Newton Lumber company, a demand for $18,000 damages, will be called for trial this afternoon in the district court.

INCORPORATION OF CANAL SYNDICATE

J. E. Gamble was riding a bicycle along Pike's Peak avenue yesterday morning when he ran against the wheel, throwing the rider to the ground. Gamble was found to be seriously hurt, and was carried into Dr. McDonnell's office, in the Barnes block. An examination disclosed the fact that his leg was broken near the hip.

The injured man was taken to his home, No. 217 East Lowell street.

Uniforms and other equipment were distributed last night at the armory to the members of the new company, E, Sixth regiment, Colorado National guard. The uniforms are of the regulation pattern and color and have been in Colorado Springs for about a week. The rifles, cartridge belts and bayonets were received yesterday from headquarters at Denver. After the regular drill last night and the distribution of the equipment the members of the company discussed the arrangements for their first annual ball, which is to be given at the Antlers, February 21.

The mate furnished Springfield rifles for the use of the new company until the Krag organizers promised by the national government to the guard of Colorado are received. The Springfields given out last night are of the steel pattern.

FEDERALS OF PHILIPPINES

Through Governor Taft Present Memorial to the Senate

ASKING FOR CIVIL REGIME

Washington, Feb. 12.—The memorial of the Federal party of the Philippine islands was transmitted to the senate this afternoon by the secretary of war together with a letter of transmittal by Governor Taft in whose charge the document was given. The memorial was adopted at an extraordinary session of the Federal party held in Manila in November. It sets forth that the performance of that obligation of the treaty of Paris which gave the United States congress authority to fix the status of the Philippine islands has been deferred to this time because of the attack of the Filipinos upon the sovereignty of the United States, an act brought about, the memorial says, through a misunderstanding, and not through hatred of the American sovereignty. It further states that out of the 60 provinces and districts war exists in only two—Batangas and Samar, only.

It also asserts that it is a demonstrated fact that the pueblos or towns anxiously desire "a definite civil rule," and says those who are still in arms allege the lack of a civil regime "agreed upon and promulgated by the congress of the United States as a weighty pretext for their belligerent attitude which regime shall determine at once the political status and civil rights of the inhabitants of the archipelago in accordance with the treaty of Paris."

The memorial then makes a presentation of the deduction of the Federal party that congress should proceed to carry into effect its determination of defining the future of the Philippines in their relations to the United States and asserts that there is no reason for not replacing the military regime "by a civil rule of a popular character in conformity with the decisive word of the never-to-be-forgotten President McKinley."

Boulder, Feb. 12.—Owing to the accident to the pump which occurred yesterday the McKenzie did not pump today. The sucker rod broke at a depth of 1,500 feet and some difficulty was experienced in getting the lower part out. The break has been repaired and everything will be in shape to resume pumping tomorrow.

Carpenters are busy erecting the Crawford derrick and it is rapidly being completed. The Blue Jacket company today ordered a complete rig from the E. C. Austin Manufacturing company of St. Louis. The Oil Well Supply company has four cars of machinery on the road here, most of which is already sold. Their new warehouse is almost completed, and their present large stock will be greatly increased. Ed Monroe has charge of their Boulder office.

The Great Western company's stock book arrived today and already quite a block has been sold. Their offices in the Boulder National Bank building are being fitted up and will be ready in a few days. The Radiance Oil & Gas company opened their office today, J. C. Gans is president; W. R. Buchner, vice president; Guy Adams, secretary and Edgar Pate, treasurer. They have six and a quarter acres on the Joe Wolfe ranch about one and three-fourth miles west of the McKenzie near the Citizens company property. Wise, secretary and treasurer, and C. E. Duncan, general manager.

G. A. Cockburn and H. S. Lawkes of the Boulder Oil company came up from Colorado Springs today.

J. E. Elstun and J. W. Duncan of Colorado Springs have opened an office in the National State Bank building where they will conduct a general brokerage and investment business under the firm name of Elstun & Duncan.

Albert Brown, manager of the Oil Well Supply company and C. W. Franklin have organized the Cosmo O. company and have bought a part of the land of the Century O. company, upon which they will sink a well.

Morgan D. Bacar has secured an option on 40 acres of oil land from George Tomlinson for $5,000.

The large number of people brought to Boulder by the oil excitement during the past few weeks has made it imperative that Boulder have better hotel accommodations, as the present ones are entirely inadequate. A number of propositions are being considered, and it is probable that in the near future Boulder will have a new hotel, which will be modern and first-class in every respect, and a credit to the city.

The following are some of the requirements which oil companies will have to meet before their stock will be listed on the new oil exchange: The applicant must produce evidence of title by lease or deed together with abstracts showing absolute title to the property held by the company, of which no stock is sought to be listed. The applicants must submit to the inspection of the committee its entire organization, together with its charter and stock books, showing the amount of stock sold and the disposition of the funds collected, also the minutes of its meetings from the beginning. The applicants must have an absolute title to deed or have a derrick erected and said for as evidence by receipted bills or such other funds in its treasury to sink a well. PROVISIONS INCLUDED IN COLOMBIA PROTOCOL

By Associated Press.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Full authority is given for the statement that the protocol now being prepared by Admiral Walker, chairman of the Isthmian canal commission and Dr. Silva, the Colombian minister here will not contain any provision for the relinquishment of sovereignty over the isthmus.

It is understood that the territory for the canal, which will be provided for in the protocol is a strip eight miles wide, four miles on either side of the canal. An interesting question has arisen with regard to the policing of this zone—that of the pursuit of crim nals who commit crimes within the zone and then take refuge without it—and it is stated that the protocol will confer the privilege of pursuit within the limits of Colombia of criminals charged with crimes committed within the zone. Justice will be administered within the zone by mixed tribunals and the question of their organization is now occupying the framers of the protocol.

The question of process, it is said, will be left as the last item to be incorporated in the document. It is desired to have it in the form of an annuity, a lump sum, in the present bad state of Colombia's finances, it is said, would be most objectionable, as it would be immediate swallowed up in the payment of the country's debt. A lease in perpetuity is contrary to the constitution of Colombia and therefore is out of the question, it is said, and the terms probably will be a 200 years' lease with privileges of renewal.

IMPERIAL YACHT HAS ARRIVED IN NEW YORK

By Associated Press.

New York, Feb. 12.—The Imperial German yacht Hohenzollern sent here for the use of Prince Henry of Prussia during his forthcoming visit, arrived today from Kiel. She was not expected, for she came by the southern circle and it was calculated that the run would take at least one day more than it did. It had also been thought that she would touch at Bermuda, and that place had reported her as two days overdue. The weather encountered was unfavorable for a call at Bermuda and at sea Admiral Count von Baudissin abandoned the partly formed plan and shaped his course for New York.

Admiral von Baudissin was formally welcomed to New York by a civic committee, a representative of Mayor Low and an officer of the United States navy. The civic committee was headed by Captain A. T. Mahan, United States navy, retired, and his associates were Jno. S. Boss, Gustav E. Schwab, Captain Jacob S. Mayer, William H. Baldwin, Jr., George M. Sidell, Colonel Wheaton and Commander Rodgers. Captain Mahan spoke briefly, greeting The admiral thanked the committee in the name of the people of the city. The admiral thanked the committee and, through its members, the citizens of New York. Private Secretary James Reynolds left the card of the mayor and Captain Converse of the battleship Illinois made the formal call in behalf of the navy. Wallace Downey, president of the yacht for the German emperor for the launching of which Prince Henry is coming to the United States, also called. The officers of the Hohenzollern said that it would be impossible for them to accept formal entertainments until the arrival of the prince of whose guests they are members. They can and will do as in their private and individual capacities, but when they come ashore it will be in civilian attire.

WOMAN'S GENTLE NATURE CALLS FOR GENTLE TREATMENT

To the delicately formed and generously reared, women with young, in the seasons of their lives, as girls or wives or mothers, that is to one simple, wholesome remedy which may be used with truly beneficial effects, under any conditions, when the system needs a laxative. Syrup of Figs. This sweet, wholesome combination of the laxative and carminative principles of plants, with pleasant, aromatic liquids, which are agreeable and refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system when its gentle cleansing is desired.

Many of the ills from which women suffer are of a transient nature and do not come from any organic trouble and it is pleasant to know that they yield promptly to the gentle effects of Syrup of Figs, but when anything more than a laxative is needed it is best to consult a competent physician and to avoid the old-time cathartics and nauseous nostrums of the present day. When one needs only to remove the strain, the torpor, the congestion, or similar ills, which are but a temporary condition of the system, use the pure and gentle remedy—Syrup of Figs—and enjoy freedom from the depression, the aches and pains, colds and headaches, which are due to inactivity of the bowels.

Only those who buy the genuine Syrup of Figs can hope to get its beneficial effects and as a guarantee of the excellence of the remedy the full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package and without any guarantee as to Syrup of Figs is fraudulent and should be declined. To those who know the quality of this excellent laxative, to offer any substitute, when Syrup of Figs is called for, is always resented by a transfer to a patronage to some first-class drug establishment, where they do not recommend, nor sell, the so-called, nor imitation remedies. The genuine article may be had of all reputable druggists everywhere at 50 cents per bottle.

CRIPPLE CREEK NEWS NOTES

An Easy Escape From the New County Jail—An Opium Den Raided.

Cripple Creek Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Cripple Creek, Feb. 12.—Emile R. Smith, the negro convicted in the district court early this week of grand larceny and who has been in the county jail awaiting sentence upon this charge, easily made his escape from that institution some time during the afternoon. His absence was not noticed until 7:15 o'clock this evening, after night jailer, Jack Burke, relieved Day Jailer James Gaughan. Smith made his escape from Teller county's new jail in the easiest manner. The prisoner was allowed to leave the principal cell room this afternoon and go upstairs in the front part of the building for the purpose of taking a bath. To the left of the heavy steel doors that lead into the cell room is a small door that leads into the basement. Smith was in charge of no one nor does it appear that anyone was watching him. After taking his bath he came down stairs and, instead of going to his cell, he went to the basement. Here he found a hammer that had been used in breaking coal and with it he broke the padlock that held the steel door over the coal chute. It was an easy matter for him to crawl through this chute and drop eight feet to the ground to liberty. What time the escape was made is not known, and his absence was not found out until Jailer Burke checked up his prisoners at 7:15 o'clock this evening. Sheriff Robertson was at once notified of the escape and he arrived here at 9 o'clock from his home in Victor. The police of the district have taken up the search and officers at Pueblo, Colorado Springs, Denver, Canon City and Florence have been notified to watch out for the fugitive who is a very light colored man, five feet eight inches high, weight 138 pounds, light brown moustache and who walks in a soldierly manner. The fugitive was convicted of complicity in the robbery of J. B. Moore, a Denver negro, of $350 on November 16, last. The robbery took place at the home of Gil Rutford on Womack avenue. Henry McQuister, one of the burglars, was shot dead during the affair and Bob Butler, another was killed by a Denver officer while resisting arrest. Smith was liable to a term of from one to 14 years in the penitentiary. Smith has a brother in Chicago who is reputed to be quite wealthy. The fugitive was formerly a member of the United States cavalry and is considered by the officers a dangerous but very cool headed man.

The "chop joint" in the small brick building back of the Red Light Dance hall on Myers avenue, was raided at noon today by Chief of Police Burton and Officer McDowell. At the time of the raid, the den was deserted. However, the paraphernalia, consisting of four bamboo pipes, mounted with ivory and silver, two pounds of opium, a pair of opium scales, together with cooking lamps and yen hooks were confiscated by the police. The rooms were elaborately fitted up and the police removed a portion of the furniture, including a number of oriental rugs, to the station house. As shown by the accounts kept, the den was well patronized by residents of Myers avenue. The building in which the den was located is owned by Mrs. Garey who is now serving time at Canon City on the charge of grand larceny. The entire layout, captured by the police, was taken to police headquarters where Chief of Police Burton gave the pipes and other trifles to his friends as souvenirs.

The preliminary hearing of H. P. Dunbaugh of Denver, formerly chief clerk in Adjutant-General Gardner's office, charged with giving a check for which he had no money in the bank, was to have been held before Justice McCullah, this afternoon, but owing to the fact that the complaining witness, W. A. Stebbins of Victor, did not appear, the prisoner was discharged. Dunbaugh gave Mr. Stebbins a check for $50 drawn on the Western Bank of Denver. Dunbaugh owed Mr. Stebbins $35 and in return for the check Dunbaugh got $15 change. The check was worthless and Dunbaugh was brought back to the district from Denver for the trial. It is stated that Mr. Stebbins' loss was made good and he refused to prosecute.

A marriage license was issued today to Orlando H. Diehl, aged 25 years, and Gertrude H. Pulsifer, aged 26 years, both of Victor.

In a letter to a local paper, John C. Bloom of Denver, denies having given out an interview published in a Denver morning paper, relative to the record of Ben Daniels at Dodge City, Kas. Mr. Bloom, in his letter, closes by saying that through some oversight his letter denying the interview was not published in the paper in which the interview appeared.

Articles of incorporation of the Bazaar Dry Goods company were filed with the county clerk today. The company is capitalized for $8 shares at $100 each, and the directors are P. L. Thorsen, John P. Pitzen, C. K. Wolfe, J. L. Robeson and Eva M. Wolfe.

Mr. R. F. Hood of Midland, Colo., and Mrs. M. Corrigan of this city, were united in marriage today by Justice McCullah. A number of friends witnessed the ceremony.

In the case of the people vs. A. A. Lee, charged with forgery, a change of venue was taken today to Justice Farrington's court. Lee is charged with forging Charles S. Swain's name to a check for $46.50, payable to Mr. Swain, and then passing it at the El-Metalite bank. Swain is a waiter and Lee has been in his employ for some time past.

T. J. Moynahan, who for the past 25 years has been actively engaged in mining in the camps of Colorado, has turned his attention to Colorado's oil fields and after a visit to Boulder and Debeque, states that he would rather own an oil well than a gold mine. Mr. Moynahan has two samples of oil from the new discovery, and he considers them to be the best oil that has yet been found in the United States. As his samples show, the Debeque oil is darker than the Boulder oil, but he thinks the Debeque oil is the more valuable of the two. "Why, at Debeque," said Mr. Moynahan, "the people go to the oil tank and fill their lamps with the unrefined oil. Everyone burns it and it gives a good light." Mr. Moynahan expects to return to Debeque within the next few days.

The annual report of the Joan Wright Hardware company, capitalized at $50,000, was filed today. The amount of stock paid in is $5,000 and the debts are $1,432.60.

NEWS NOTES FROM PUEBLO

Pueblo Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Pueblo, Feb. 12.—This evening at 8:15 there was a cutting scrape back of the Board of Trade building. The participants were colored people, John Perkins, the proprietor of the small restaurant on Richmond avenue, became involved in a quarrel with Lizzie George and he drew a knife and slashed the woman over the head, face and wrist. The cut on the wrist was the most severe of all. She is very weak from the loss of blood, but it is thought that she will recover. Perkins was caught and safely landed in jail.

The following receipts have been issued at the land office: For Storrs No. 1 lode, Cripple Creek mining district, Teller county, to A. Tallberg of Cripple Creek. Mineral applications have been received for Happy Thought placer, Cripple Creek mining district, Teller county, from Grace Clark and T. A. Anderson of Cripple Creek; Lightning, Fog, Thunder and Oroway lodes, Cripple Creek Mining district, from the Ft. Wayne G. M. Co., by F. M. Woods, agent, Victor.

Testimony introduced by the prosecution in the Papa murder trial today was very damaging to the hopes of the defendant.

That the Y. M. C. A. will have a swimming pool is now an assured fact. A great many members have been received into the association and at the banquet given to the boys who participated in the membership contest, the Tossiers, Rustlers and Hustlers—last night by the ladies auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. the teams made pledges of securing other new members and the women announced that they will guarantee $200 towards the swimming pond.

Several petitions to Governor Orman asking him to commute the death sentence of Lawrence Hex to life imprisonment have been prepared by Attorney Townsend and are being circulated about the city for the purpose of securing signatures. The attorney has every confidence that he will secure a large number of names of influential citizens to the petition.

Deputy Game Warden Frederic B. Orman will tomorrow bring to Pueblo 50 pairs of quail which will be distributed along the Greenhorn and St. Charles rivers. The game will be furnished by the state and it is believed with a strict enforcement of the law against shooting quail, this section of the country will in a few years be the home of many thousands of the birds. Sportsmen of the country are expressing no little satisfaction that Mr. Orman has been able to secure the birds for Pueblo county. The portion of the country about the two rivers named is considered an ideal breeding ground for them. Since his appointment as game warden, Mr. Orman has, besides making it very warm for the offenders against the game law, been doing all in his power to advance the interests of the sportsmen and has gained thereby a wide popularity.

George D. Wilson, the Santa Fe workman who was struck by passenger train No. 1 yesterday noon, while in the yards near the Fourth street viaduct, died last night at the Pueblo hospital as a result of the injuries he received. It is believed he has relatives in Kansas and no funeral arrangements will be made until they can be heard from.

The train which brought the remains of Mrs. G. W. Crews, who died in Indianapolis, Ind., Monday morning, was two hours late. On that account the body was taken directly to the church instead of to the house first, as had been the original intention. The funeral was therefore, considerably later than the hour announced for it to take place. The services were held in the First Presbyterian church, Rev. J. L. Weaver officiating. Employes of the Crews-Beggs Dry Goods and Furniture company and the Ladies' Aid society of the church attended in a body. The interment was in Riverview cemetery.

The funeral of John J. Kane will take place from his late residence, 1609 West Seventeenth street, Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

Funeral services over the remains of John Green, who died yesterday at his home, 1433 E. Navajo, will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from the house and at 9:30 from St. Patrick's church.

FIFTY JAPANESE FROM FREMONT COUNTY

Special to the Gazette.

Florence, Feb. 12.—In consequence of the importation of 52 Japanese from the west a mass meeting of union miners was held at Chandler Creek this morning. There are 1,400 coal miners in this county and nearly 1,500 of them were present. The meeting was unusually enthusiastic. A committee of five, representing as many nationalities, was appointed to draft resolutions setting forth the best possible manner for getting rid of the new element. The resolutions will be handed to the state board. The Japs are employed in loading coal and a union miner is paid $2.25 per day for this work. In these resolutions will be embodied a proviso on that a committee be appointed to look into the matter of what wages the Japs are being paid. At Chandler mine the entire shipment of Japanese are working and up to this evening they have not been interfered with by any of the union men. It cannot be stated what the result of the presence of the Japs in this county will be, but it is evident now that if they do not leave here within a few days the miners will make it exceedingly warm for them. The Japs do not fear the miners, it is stated, as the company has promised them protection.

The miners have not decided when they will return to work, as they say that they will come to some definite conclusion if they are required to stay at Chandler all night and tomorrow. It was suggested that a petition be circulated among the merchants of Florence and Canon City asking their support in whatever the miners may do.

The Italian miners are the foremost in the movement in having the Japs leave the county. It was suggested by some of the miners that if nothing could be done toward having the objectionable element leave, even more stringent measures would be taken and the miners employed by the Victor Fuel company in the southern coal fields would be asked to lend their support to the Chandler union.

Mrs. Goodwin, who has been conducting a boarding house in one of the company's buildings, has vacated at the request of the company, and the Japs are being sheltered in the building. The conditions have reached such a point that the officers of the law fear that the Japs will be unfairly dealt with and to this end Sheriff Simons was at Chandler nearly all day to prevent any outbreaks. The miners think that there were several deputies on the ground during the meeting today.

It is understood that the company will make as determined a stand as will the miners, and should the miners resort to violence, the company will interfere. The miners have concluded that the cause of this action on the part of the company is on account of a disagreement between it and some of the miners. Ten years ago the present squatters purchased their land from a rancheman who took their money but did not give a deed. Since then they have been paying taxes on the ground, but since that time the Victor people have made an outright purchase of the land and have attempted several times to eject the squatters.

It was the intent on of the Victor Fuel company to make this one of the biggest mines in the county and this trouble may change its plans.

ENGINEER'S PREFERENCE FOR PANAMA ROUTE

By Associated Press.

Washington, Feb. 12.—George S. Morrison, an engineer, member of the isthmian canal commission, testified before the senate committee on interoceanic canals today, expressing a preference for the Panama route. He said that according to his opinion the dam at Bohio on the Panama line could be constructed for a much more reasonable sum that had been estimated and he also thought the construction of a dam there entirely practicable. He did not believe the double chambers in the locks would be necessary and he thought the control of the Chagres river entirely practicable. Mr. Morrison spoke of the plan for a canal through a tunnel as proposed in the San Blas (Darien) route as chimerical. He said that no person could undertake to say in advance what materials would be encountered in running a tunnel and that therefore the risk would be greater than could be estimated. He also thought it impracticable to tow ships through such a tunnel by means of an electric trolley.

TO CURE DANDRUFF.

It is Necessary that the Dandruff Germ Be Eradicated.

"Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Kill the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair and baldness, you will have no more dandruff and your hair must grow luxuriantly. Herpicide not only contains the dandruff germ destroyer, but it is also a most delightful hair dressing for regular toilet use. No other hair preparation is on this scientific basis of destroying the dandruff germ, and none other claims to be, for the simple reason that it is only recently that destroyer of the germ has been discovered—Newbro's Herpicide, the only hair preparation that actually kills dandruff.

Share With Employes.

The Columbus (Ohio) Railway company pays at its employes the same dividend on wages that stockholders receive on their stock. President Robert E. Sheldon says: "The plan is appreciated by our employes, and our stockholders have apparently unanimously approved the action of the board in adopting it, since we have never heard criticism from any source. During the three years since the inauguration of the plan we have twice made voluntary advances in the wage schedule and besides, have increased our dividend from four to five per cent. per annum on our preferred stock, which, of course, inures to the benefit of employes and stockholders alike. We do not pretend to advise others, because conditions may be different in other localities, but we are certainly well satisfied with a plan that has passed the experimental period."

"Columbus seems to be an intelligent and progressive town, for the Columbus Gas company also pays employes a semi-annual dividend equal in rate to the dividend to stockholders. This dividend may be in stock at the election of the company until the employe has three shares to its credit when he may sell them. The plan was instituted in 1895. Mr. E. E. Eyschen, the secretary and treasurer, says that he would not run a large plant without trying to establish a spirit of good-fellowship between employer and employes in some such way as this.

"The Posse Dale Manufacturing company, two-fifths of whose employes are women, announced in 1878 that after interest, depreciation, a reserve fund and a dividend to capital had been provided for, a bonus bonus would be given to every employe. For several years this bonus ranged from 3 to 5 per cent. on wages; there was then a suspension owing to hard times, but the bonus was afterwards paid when receipts were large enough. The Riverside press allows a share in profits by paying an extra interest on savings, which may not from large as a benefit, but is an encouragement to thrift." The Procter & Gamble company adopted profit-sharing in 1887 as a protection against strikes—there had been 14 the year before. According to the proportion of wages to the whole cost of production, the net profits were divided between employes (boys and girls not included) and the firm. At first the employes were skeptical, but the dividend for the initial six months was 13.47 per cent. on wages, for the second 11.70 and for the third 9.33 per cent. To discourage waste and indifference, it was decided to pay twice the regular dividend to those employes who took a lively interest in their work—who hustled in other words; the regular dividend to lose zealous workers, and no dividend at all to sluggards and wasters. The dividend in April, 1899, was 15.57 per cent., and in three years the employes without a single exception, were working hard and intelligently and wasting nothing. In July, 1900, the plan of giving employes a dividend on wages equal to that on the common stock was accepted and at the time it promised to be 12 per cent. Many of the employes now own stock. There have been no strikes since 1887. The cost of labor has decreased nearly 40 per cent. and wages are 12 per cent higher.

"The directors of the Bourne mills of Fall River have annually indorsed a plan of profit-sharing begun in 1889 because it is 'good business.' There are 400 employes, and they receive a dividend on wages paid, which has varied between 2 and 7 per cent. The treasurer, Mr. George A. Chace, believes that the dividends to stockholders, on which the bonus of labor depends, have been larger, as a rule, than the net profits of rival concerns, because profit-sharing has developed a better class of operators. Mr. Chace says that profit-sharing within certain bounds and under favorable conditions, is worth the trial of any fair-minded man of business." —(H. E. Armstrong in Ainslee's.

An Anecdote of Whitman.

One day I was stopped on Washington street, says J. T. Trowbridge in the February Atlantic, by a friend who made this startling announcement: "Walt Whitman is in town; I have just seen him!" When I asked where, he replied, "At the stereotype foundry, just around the corner—come along! I'll take you to him." The author of "Leaves of Grass" had loomed so large in my imagination as to seem almost superhuman, and I was filled with some such feeling of wonder and astonishment as if I had been invited to meet Socrates or Kung Bo omion.

We found a large, gray-haired and gray-bearded, plainly dressed man, reading proof sheets at a desk in a little dingy office, with a lank, unwholesome-looking lad at his elbow, listlessly watching him. The man was Whitman and the proofs were those of a new edition. There was a scarcity of chairs and Whitman, rising to receive us, offered me his, but we all remained standing except the sickly-looking lad, who kept his seat until Whitman turned to him and said, "You'd better go now; I'll see you this evening." After he had gone out, Whitman explained: "He is a friendless boy, found at my boarding place. I am trying to cheer him up and strengthen him with my magnetism." A practical but curiously provable illustration of these powerful lines in the early poems:

"To anyone dying, thither I speed and twist the knob of the door.
I seize the descending man, I raise him with resistless will.
* * * *
Every room of the house do I fill with an armed force, lovers of one, bafflers of graves."

THE NEW STATE REPUBLICAN CHAIRMAN.

THE REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE yesterday elected Mr. D. R. Fairley of Denver to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of State Chairman Ford.

So much more depends upon what the man does as chairman and the influences and motives which he permits to control him as chairman than upon the character or personality of the man that time alone can demonstrate whether the new chairman will be a help or an injury to the Republican party of Colorado. The fact that he is a man of good character goes far toward promising an efficient and impartial administration of the party affairs, and yet, so many men of standard character and irreproachable honor in private affairs permit themselves to be used as mere puppets in the hands of designing and disreputable political managers that it is always difficult to forecast just what will happen to an honorable business man when he participates in the active management of a political party.

The recent chairman of the Republican state committee is an honorable man and he to himself he would have conducted the affairs of the party for the benefit of the entire party. But, being a federal office holder, he, perforce, was compelled to allow others to run his chairmanship for him and it is difficult to imagine any blunder by which voters could be driven away from the Republican ticket that was not committed in the last state campaign. The first attempt ever made in Colorado to run roughshod over the wishes of Republican voters without regard to consequences and to make the devious designs of a disreputable clique superior to the will of the party was in the Republican conventions of 1892. In Arapahoe county scores of elected delegates in the county convention were disfranchised because it suited the wishes of the clique to make a roll of their own and the chairman of the county committee was willing to do their bidding. The same methods were carried into the state convention.

The result was almost natural. Republicans in all parts of the state protested at the polls against such methods and the result was an overwhelming Republican defeat and Populism gained a foothold in Colorado, not through the strength at that time of Populistic doctrines, but as a rebuke by Republican voters to disreputable party methods. The very next spring that clique was turned down in the city of Denver and that city elected the entire Republican ticket. It was kept turned down until after the state election of 1894 with the result that the state went Republican in that year. In 1896, that clique went bodily into the Silver Republican party and within six months its high handed methods forced the formation of two Silver Republican committees in Arapahoe county and in 1898 its outrageous conduct forced a rout of the regular Silver Republican party and into a holding organization which spent its energies for the next two years in assisting to turn the state over to the Democrats and intrenching them firmly in power.

Now, unfortunately, through some uncanny fate which perhaps had its origin in the overestimation of the real power of this clique in Colorado political affairs by a Republican candidate for the United States senate, that clique is in full control of the machinery of the Republican party of this state. Its conduct in the last state convention and its action in last fall's county convention in Denver show most clearly that it has not mended its ways nor changed its methods. On the contrary the methods in Arapahoe county last fall were more obnoxious than ever. Neither does the stinging rebuke of the Republicans of Denver administered at the polls last fall seem to have the slightest effect upon this clique or its effrontery or its insulting disregard of party affairs.

But what can be expected from such a crowd? They exist and thrive solely upon the plunder of political campaigns, and whether victory is achieved or the party hopelessly mangled in the wreck of defeat concerns them not in the least, so long as they can control the machine of the party conventions and the purse strings of the party treasury.

It is with this clique that the new chairman must deal, and that promptly and vigorously. Unless his methods and paraphernalia must be sent "way back" in party management or there will be no Republican victories in Colorado and the new chairman should not require any more party defeats to demonstrate this self-evident truth.

Neither the women nor men voters of Colorado will stand for such methods nor for such men. They will not have the stench of the brothel nor the aroma of the debauchee nor the methods of the outlaw as their constant models of political and party leadership.

If the new state chairman will bend his efforts to building up the Republican party of this state upon broad, decent, clean and honorable lines, and if he will faithfully and honestly enforce the party rules recently adopted, he will deserve the commendation of not only every Republican in Colorado, but of every other patriotic citizen as well, for clean political methods vitally concern every party and every citizen.

Mr. Fairley has the ability to do all of these things and if he just has the courage to disregard the Denver clique and to put the interests of the party ahead of the personal ambitions of any man or set of men he will be the greatest Republican and the most devoted patriot in the state.

The Gazette sincerely hopes he will choose such a course and we believe that he will.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

IT IS interesting to watch from year to year the gradual growth of sentiment regarding Abraham Lincoln, and his proper position among the great men of the country. Appreciation of his extraordinary qualities, moral and intellectual, was not wanting even before his death, while the bitter criticism and misjudgment so freely showered upon him during his life was quickly disposed of by the tragic circumstances of his assassination. The enemies of Lincoln were among the most earnest and sincere of his mourners, for none realized better than they what loss the nation had sustained.

But as the years go on, it becomes more and more evident that the fame of Lincoln is not a transitory one. The memories of the great civil war are fast passing away. The nation notes with satisfaction every evidence of reunion in the people, and every sign of the disappearance of sectional hatred and strife. We are glad to know that one of the greatest blessings of the war will Spain was the discovery of a national patriotism that knew not north or sectional or historical differences. The questions which finally led to, in the war of the great rebellion are fast fading out of existence. The north and the south clearly appreciates far better than it used to do the sentiments and the prejudices of the other, and each is willing to admit that under similar local circumstances its opinions and actions would not be greatly different from what those of the other have been.

But in spite of all this dimming of the acts and the issues of the past, the name and the fame of Abraham Lincoln seem to grow brighter and clearer as the years go by. His fame is not bounded within the narrow circle of the events of the civil war. It was that terrible struggle which gave him the opportunity to bring out to the full all the resources of his magnificent nature and to demonstrate to his countrymen the superiority of his mental and moral attributes. But Lincoln himself as a man and a statesman was a typical American, limited neither to any period of time, nor to any crisis of national affairs, neither to any political party of his countrymen, nor to any geographical section of his country. The admiration for his greatness, the respect for his character, the patriotic influence of his life broadens as the years go by. It extends wherever the American flag bears its message of human liberty and speaks with increasing force as each generation of Americans swings into line to carry on the battle for the principles to which he gave his life and of which his life was so conspicuous an example.

THE RATE WAR SHOULD END.

THE REPORT that the Cripple Creek rate war will soon terminate by a restoration of the former freight and passenger tariff may or may not be true, but it will serve at least as a reminder of the folly of continuing this struggle.

The progress of events has shown that the position of the Short Line is practically impregnable. This short period of railroad with its excellent system of Cripple Creek terminals, its short main line and its connections at Colorado Springs is self-sustaining. The forthcoming monthly report of its business shows that the gross earnings [illegible] have not been diminished by the rate reduction. The relations existing between this railway and the great properties mines of Cripple Creek, coupled with the approximate completion of reduction [illegible] owned by the owners of the mines and the railway, gives the Short Line a control of the situation that cannot be shaken. It is able to continue the struggle for an indefinite period, and it will continue to do all the business it needs, both in the freight and passenger departments, without regard to any action that may be taken by its rivals.

These facts have been brought out so conclusively in the past weeks, as to leave no doubt in the mind of any one capable of viewing the situation as it is, that the wise plan is to re-establish Cripple Creek business upon a basis that is fair to all concerned, to the shippers, the merchants, the passengers and the railroads. The sooner this is done the better, and the longer it is delayed the worse it will be for those who have precipitated this struggle in a vain effort to accomplish something which their own judgment should have convinced them was impossible.

THE FOREST LINE RESERVOIR.

A DISTRIBUTION RESERVOIR for the purpose of supplying a larger amount of water under high pressure to the people of the northern part of Colorado Springs has been a positive necessity for some time past. In the present state of the city finances, it is essential that the utmost economy should be practiced, and no appropriations should be made for anything that we can get along without. But the north one reservoir is indispensable.

The growth of the city within the last two years has been very great in all directions, but the greatest amount of building for residence purposes has undoubtedly been between the Monument creek and the Santa Fe railroad. It is absolutely essential to the continued growth of the city and the maintenance of its prosperity that the newer sections should be given the same generous treatment in regard to water supply that has been accorded to the older ones. Colorado Springs has been built up very largely because it offered advantages that were not to be had in other Colorado cities, and nothing could be more suicidal than the policy of denying to new comers the privileges that are enjoyed by those already living here. Whatever the cost may be, Colorado Springs must provide a sufficient water supply, not only to meet absolute requirements for domestic purposes, but also enough to keep the trees, the lawns and the gardens in a proper condition.

Many years ago the necessity for increased pressure in the north end of the city became apparent, and it was made one of the prominent features of the report waiting distinguished water system expert made for the citizens' committee. It is a matter for surprise that we have been able to get along as well as we have for so many years, and the construction of this reservoir positively cannot be safely delayed any longer.

The county authorities certainly are to be congratulated for coming as the reasonable resort north of the city. It ought to be understood by every one who is a property owner in this county who is to be in such matters, and a great deal of trouble can be saved by [illegible] such people at the beginning instead of waiting until they get [illegible].

Emperor William's warfare on Germany's [illegible] is not a new one. As long as the emperor [illegible] the beauty of the divine right of kings, he seems to be extremely particular about trespassing on the rights of other people's horses.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

The Question of Sunday Work in a Nutshell.

To the Editor of the Gazette.

Dear Sir:—As one who was instrumental in bringing before the public the petition regarding the stopping of general business at the postoffice on Sundays, I feel that it is right to make a correction in the notice of the petition that appeared in your columns last Monday. The article spoke of the petition as having emanated from the employes at the postoffice. This, if true, might prejudice the cause of the petition in the minds of some.

As a matter of fact, the movement began with a few of the ministers of the city who, conceiving that the open hour on Sunday was unnecessary, afterwards (with the approval of the postmaster) consulted the clerks and carriers as to whether the proposed relief would be acceptable. The petition itself is the work of a committee of ministers appointed at the ministers meeting. And, that the Ministers association is responsible for the petition, appears from their action last Monday, in holding the petition back for two more Sundays, in order to get more signatures.

No, the postoffice employes have not complained. For years the entire force have patiently given up their Sunday morning, in order that people might have their mail after church. But they welcome the prospect of relief, and who would not?

Let me add, to clear up a possible misunderstanding of the purport of the petition, it is not proposed to stop all Sunday work. Some is acknowledged to be necessary, for instance, the care of the outgoing mail, and the distribution into the boxes and carriers' cases of all incoming mail. It is proposed only to close the mail delivery window, and the registration and stamp windows. But the difference would be, that whereas now the whole force of 33 clerks and carriers have to be on duty all the morning, in case the petition were granted, 27 out of 33 would have their mornings free.

Benjamin Brewster.

Colorado Springs, Feb. 12, 1902.

The President and Civil Service Reform.

At the very beginning of his term the president was called upon to apply his principles and his experiences as a civil service reformer, says Henry Loomis Nelson in the February Atlantic. He knew the service from top to bottom. He had been active in the reform movement and had been a member of the federal civil service commission. Never in the history of the office has the country had a president so well equipped for the tasks of administration; never one with such an intimate knowledge of the civil service, of its virtues and its weaknesses, of the shifts of those who desire to defeat the merit system, of the attitude of congressmen toward it, of the means by which evasion can be discovered and opposition brought to naught. Knowledge had strengthened his theories, and he was possessed of a deep conviction not only of the value, but of the necessity, of the merit system. Therefore, it followed instantly upon his entrance into the presidency that the spirits of civil service reformers began to revive from one end of the country to the other, the service itself took on a new life; those whose places and fortunes depended upon their own deserts took heart; those who had only political or personal influence to sustain them faced a discouraging future.

With Mr. Roosevelt as president, the war on the merit system ceases for three years, at least.

The Death Penalty for Anarchists.

It is also said that our federal government is powerless to punish with death the assassins of its presidents. No other government in history has been so impotent. The conception of sovereignty excludes the idea that a sovereign nation can be so weak. Happily it is not true. Under the Constitution congress may enact laws to punish such crimes against the existence of the government the Constitution ordained. That instrument declares the president "shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed." The supreme court has said that the founders never intended to leave to the decision of the state courts what the federal laws are and what protection shall be extended to those who execute them; that there is a peace of the United States, that a man assaulting a high official of the United States violates that peace; that it would be a reproach to the system of government of the United States, declared to be within its sphere, sovereign and supreme, if there is to be found within its powers no means of protecting high officials in the discharge of their duty, from malice; that if an official in such situation could have no other guaranty of his personal safety while discharging his duty than if he was murdered his murderers could be punished by the laws of the state, the security would be insufficient. —Senator L. E. McComas in Leslie's Weekly.

Floating Islands.

"Of all passengers carried by ocean currents floating islands are the most interesting. Many of them have been found voyaging on the Atlantic. These islands were originally parts of low-lying river banks which broke away under stress of storm or flood and floated out to sea. The Orinoco, the Amazon, the La Plata and other tropical rivers often send forth such pieces of their shores. Some of the bits of land are of large size and carry animals, insects and vegetation, even at times including trees, the roots of which serve to hold the land intact, while their branches and leaves serve as sails for the wind. Generally the waves break up these islands shortly after they put to sea, but sometimes, under favorable conditions, they travel long distances.

"The longest voyage of a floating island, according to government records, took place in 1882. This island was first seen off Florida, and apparently it had an area of two acres. It bore no trees, but it was thickly covered with bushes, and in one place it was 4 feet high above the sea level. It was in the gulf stream, traveling slowly and with occasional undulations to show where the ground swell was working beneath it. Probably it got away from its river anchorage in the spring of the year, for, toward the latter part of July it had reached the latitude of Washington, Delaware. No large animal life has been seen on it, though there must have been myriads of the small creeping things which abound in the tropics. By the end of August it had passed Cape Cod and was veering toward the Grand banks. It followed the steamship lane routes quite accurately, and several vessels reported it. One month later it was in mid-ocean, northeast of the Azores, and its voyage evidently was drawing to its close. It was much smaller and less compact. It was not seen again, and probably it met its destruction in the October gales. It has traveled at least 1,500 miles, and it was taking it, it came from the Orinoco. [illegible]

Wills & Co. Make Big Deal on South Nevada

Another big realty deal was completed yesterday and it is the beginning of what will probably prove to be a period of considerable activity in the district where this deal was made. It is the Lehmann property, located on Nevada avenue, 125 south of Huerfano street, which has been known for years as "Anderson's corral." The deal was made by H. LeB. Wills & Co.

It has been expected that the erection of the court house in the south park would have the effect of starting activity in the development of business property in that vicinity and this transaction seems to be the beginning of the fulfillment of that expectation. The property has a frontage of 75 feet on Nevada avenue and runs back to main alley, 190 feet. It is sold by the estate of E. J. Lehmann, of Chicago, one of the wealthiest estates in the west, to Mrs. Mamie Zittel for a consideration of $15,000.

It is the intention of the purchaser to improve the property substantially in the near future. The fact that the property has an alley west of it and also one to the south makes it exceptionally advantageous for business purposes, affording not only easy access to any part of the building, but an abundance of light and air for all the upper stories, regardless of what may be built upon adjoining property at any time in the future.

The early erection of the city hall on Nevada avenue and the probable location of the government building also on this avenue, if the appropriation bill passes, will doubtless do much to further all the development of Nevada avenue property for business purposes.

Miss Cahn Became Mrs. Max Buchmann

The marriage of Miss Carrie Kahn of Chicago, to Mr. Max Buchmann, was quietly celebrated last evening at 6:30 o'clock. It occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. Oppenheimer, 329 East Platte avenue. The bride wore a tasteful gown of white batiste and lace and carried bride's roses. She was unattended but there was a best man, Mr. Julius Gump. Professor Ness played the Lohengrin wedding march.

At 7:30 an elaborate wedding dinner was served in a private dining room at the Antlers, to Mr. and Mrs. Max Buchmann, Mr. and Mrs. I. Oppenheimer, Mr. and Mrs. I. Oppenheimer. The menu included:

Nelson Fell Into a Clever Trap

Frank Nelson left Cripple Creek for Colorado Springs yesterday morning shortly after he started his young wife reported to the police of the camp that her husband had beaten her and stolen all her money. The police of this city were notified to look out for Nelson and he was arrested here in the afternoon.

It is said that Nelson beat his wife severely. After the alleged assault he is said to have robbed the woman. He boarded a train for Colorado Springs and reached this city before the police here were told to arrest him. Nelson has acquaintances here and one of them was told by the police to notify them if he happened to see Nelson.

About 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon word was received by Chief Kling that Nelson was at the telephone exchange, "phoning to Cripple Creek. Detective Gregory was sent to the exchange and found Nelson there and arrested him. Nelson admitted he was the man wanted, but said there was no serious charge against him. He said he had only had a "little trouble" with his wife.

The prisoner was locked up pending the arrival of an officer from Cripple Creek to take him back to the camp.

Progress Clubs Held a Union Reception

The Progress club, which is a union of the Monday Progress and Four O'clock Progress clubs, held an enjoyable informal farewell reception at the residence of Mrs. W. S. Nichols, 705 North Nevada avenue, yesterday afternoon. This union has dissolved preliminary to joining the Federation of Women's clubs of the city which is to be organized on next Saturday.

The guests were received by Mrs. Nichols, the hostess; Miss Flansburg, president of the Progress club; Mrs. Colburn, president of the Monday Progress club, and Miss McCee, president of the Four O'clock Progress club.

The meeting was devoid of any features other than social ones, with the exception of a timely talk, the valedictory delivered by Miss Flansburg.

She expressed the sentiments of those present—joy rather than sorrow—because this temporary disbanding was simply a necessary step toward the stronger, better, more useful club life in store for every woman who espoused the cause of city federation.

The attendance at the reception was quite large and the interest and enthusiasm manifested in the subject of federation shows that a strong tide of popularity is already rising in its favor.

Paid Big Price for Interest in Trotter

Mr. Stark has since based from George Bernard, for $2,000, a one-half interest in Porto Rico, the five-year-old trotting stallion. Mr. Stark now owns this famous trotter, the fastest trotting stallion ever owned in Colorado.

Porto Rico trotted through the grand circuit in 1900 and 1901, as a three and four-year-old, and won the except on of once, when he was sick, was never "outside" the money. He has a race record of 2:14 for the mile. Last year he was the fastest green stallion on the grand circuit. He is now in training on the Roswell track and much is expected of his campaign during the coming season. He is a full brother of the trotting mare, Ima Electrite, owned by George Bernard. Ima has a race record of 2:15¼ for the mile.

Mr. Stark has six other fast ones, among them Red June, a mare, with a record of 2:4½. Red June won the 2:24 trot at Lexington, Ky., last fall in a seven-heat race.

Secretary J. W. Coffey, of the Colorado Springs Racing association, yesterday let the contract for the plowing and raising of the Roswell track, to George Lookman. The resurfacing contract has not yet been let.

George Powell Charged With Larceny as Bailee

An action charging George A. Powell, one of the best-known mining brokers of the city, with grand larceny as bailee, is pending in Justice Ruby's court. The complaining witness in the case is George A. Cockburn, another prominent broker, and the case is set for a hearing in Justice Ruby's court next Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Mr. Powell has furnished bail in the sum of $1,000.

The action is the result of the alleged converting to his own use by Mr. Powell of 126,000 shares of Marquette Gold Mining company treasury stock, valued at $2,800. Mr. Powell was secretary and treasurer of the Marquette company.

Mr. Powell, it is understood, asserts a claim against the Marquette company for services as treasurer. He has an action now pending in the county court against the company for $435 alleged to be due him for his services as secretary and treasurer. He states in his complaint that on September 5, 1899, he was elected secretary and treasurer of the company and served until recently. He alleges that his services in such capacity were worth $15 a month and that he has never been paid.

It is understood that efforts are being made to effect a settlement of the trouble, but that the parties to the controversy, other than the state, are unable to agree upon terms of settlement. The complaining witness, it is said, will agree to drop the prosecution only on a replacement of the stock alleged to have been converted without authority, while the defendant is endeavoring to have a compromise brought about by offsetting the claim of the company against him by his claim for services.

The criminal action is set for a hearing Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Bail for Mr. Powell's appearance was furnished by J. S. Barnes.

Romance Ends in Double Wedding

The romances of two coal miners culminated yesterday afternoon in weddings in the office of Justice of the Peace McClelland. A double marriage ceremony united in wedlock James Jenkings Rodgers and Annie Eder, of Louisville, Boulder county, and Joseph Gray of this city, and Katie Kroel, of Louisville.

The two miners met the girls of their choice in Louisville. The miners were employed in the coal mines at that place and the young women were residents of the town. The miners, but young men, were given an opportunity of employment in the mines north of Colorado Springs. They decided to come here provided the girls came with them. The girls were "willing" and all four arrived in this city yesterday morning. They secured marriage licenses at the office of the county clerk and afterwards went to Justice McClelland's office, where a double marriage ceremony was performed. The miners are young men and the brides are each 18 years old.

To Serve Refreshments for Pleasure Seekers

Davis & Mueth have closed a three years' contract with the owners of the amusement privileges at Prospect lake for the concession which includes all kinds of refreshments, summer and winter.

It is the intention of the firm to put in a handsome soda fountain at the pavillion that is to be constructed, which but in fact already been started, and to serve everything that the pleasure seekers who go to the lake either in summer or winter can want. They will furnish sandwiches and hot and cold drinks and light lunches of all kinds.

The plans for the installation of the amusement features are being rapidly matured. There will be a pavilion built on the edge of the water and it will be fashioned after the manner of an excursion steamer. Smokestacks will go up through it and there will be three decks. This will give a place in summer where it will be cool constantly, and a sufficient portion will be enclosed on the plan of a steamer cabin, to afford protection from bad weather in summer or cold in winter.

There will be an engine for heating water and a natatorium where the water can be heated to a temperature that anyone can stand will be installed. The lake itself also will be available.

The ice on the lake will be kept in good condition in winter and skaters will find every inducement that can be offered to them to go there.

There will be a merry-go-round and all sorts of games and side attractions to make the lake popular during the entire year.

John Temple Graves Talked at the Temple

John Temple Graves, orator and optimist, spoke last evening at the Temple theater on ideals. It does not matter what his topic was—it was not announced at the beginning, although he dwelt for a large part of his speech on politics, demagogues. But this was not the theme of his speech; eloquence and sincerity cannot dwell on anything so negative as this, and the stirring, soul-inspiring Mr. Graves' oration sounded political ideals as the keynote of national honor and national life. One, listening to his simple doctrine could not but know that Democrats would be Mr. Graves' theme, no matter what the topic he chose to label his address.

Through lofty and classic periods, and beginning the Constitution of the United States and all the sacred institutions of the country, paying glowing tribute to the nation's great men, past and present, and framing a rich apostrophe to the national emblem, he carried his audience to heights of patriotism and staunch citizenship, which was the accomplishment of the purpose with which he set out—to belittle the man who lives for gain and not for good. He did not, with all his optimism, believe the political demagogue could be cut out from the body politic. Like original sin, he said, it was engrafted in its being. But he urged an ever-broadening education, the inoculation of moral force into schools which would strike at the root of greed and selfishness and eradicate to a vast extent the cause of political corruption and demagogy. Nor did he confine his censure of corruption to its political aspect. Mrs. Leslie Carter, he said, the shameless divorcee, parading her life on the stage for gain, was the demagogue of our social life as the ward huckster was of life politics.

Mr. Graves has not lifted his voice in the halls which have echoed to the ring of Webster's eloquence and those other statesmen who have spoken the truth which was in them as the representatives and law-givers of a great people. Perhaps in these days when voices so often bear a marketable value, his gift of oratory, as natural as the speech of a child and as convincing as the vows of a lover, would not command that tribute and wield that influence which were given to and exercised by the orators of old. Corporations do not applaud the words of idealists. But he is, by traveling over the country and scattering the seed of his lofty patriotism and simple faith, cultivating fertile ground and perhaps making sure of a richer harvest than did he now be seed among the thistles and weeds in legislative gatherings.

Seeks Preservation of Famous Ruins

Mrs. Gilbert McClung returned home yesterday from Santa Fe, New Mexico, where she filed a protest in the federal land office against granting a homestead patent to Mrs. Clara A. B. Corbin of Washington, D. C., for a homestead claim covering a part of the famous Gran Quivira ruins in Lincoln county, N. M. Corbin made final proof a few days ago as the widow of the late Willis Corbin, who settled in Gran Quivira a number of years ago.

Mrs. McClung hopes that the ruins may be preserved and she is making an effort to do that. For that reason the protest was filed in the land office. She is connected with and working in conjunction with an eastern society for the institute, and hopes to secure the grounds and ruins for scientific research.

She says that if the land and ruins pass into the hands of Mrs. Corbin they will be ransacked for the archeological treasures which they contain and she believes they should be preserved.

A decision in the matter is expected shortly and Mrs. McClung trusts that she will come off successful in the contest.

WILL BE COMPLETED IN TEN WEEKS.

The two-story store building and rooming house being erected by Contractor Atkinson for John Lennox, on North Tejon street, opposite the park, will be completed in about 10 weeks. A copy of the contract was filed for record yesterday at the office of the county clerk, showing that the structure is to cost $20,000.

The first floor of the building will be occupied by stores, and the second as a rooming house. The rooming house will be run by George W. Green of Kansas City.

GOLDFIELD PARAGRAPHS

Two Leases Secured on South Slope of Mineral Hill—Good Showing in Bull Hill Lease—Other Items.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Feb. 12.—What appears to be a good find has been opened up on the Laura Lee, situated a short distance north of this city on the south slope of Mineral hill. In a crosscut run at a depth of 110 feet a three-foot vein was entered a few days ago all of which assays good pay. There is a seam two inches in width along the hanging wall that shows rusty gold in abundance and assays have been obtained running as high as $20,000 to the ton. In the event of a mine opened up in this section, there would be a rush of prospectors to the locality. It is barely possible that this vein is the source of the placer gold which is found on the southwest slope of Mineral hill.

John P. Hawkins has certainly a splendid showing in his case on the Last Chance, owned by the Mobile company. He has now extended a drift 20 feet on four feet of pay rock, assays taken today from across the entire breast showing values at the rate of $38 to the ton.

Dudley Gray, leasing on the Friesy, owned by the White City company, has a good showing at a depth of 110 feet in his lease. This property is situated on Tenderfoot hill, and several shipments have been sent out that have averaged about $25 to the ton. Another carload will be marketed tomorrow.

The Hoosier on Tenderfoot hill, owned by the Grafton company, is again among the steady shippers of the camp. At the 500-foot level, which is the bottom one, drifts are now being extended north and south on the lead.

Lessees working on the Marquette on Beacon hill, have opened up a three-foot seam of ore that assays as high as $62 to the ton.

C. K. AND N. OPENS GOOD ORE

At the Bottom Level Lessees Are Giving Good Pay Assays—Work Progressing in the Mabel M. Shaft.

Lessee Granfield, operating on the Hasler claim of the C. K. and N. company has opened a very good body of ore in the bottom level of his property, assays running all the way from an ounce to four ounces in gold to the ton on about 8 inches of ore. The development is in the form of an improvement in the vein which he has been working for some weeks, and it now looks as if he might have a permanent shoot, or at least one from which something very substantial might be shipped. Some ore has been got out before, but the vein has been more or less jovety, and Mr. Granfield has been desirous of acquiring greater depth.

Operations were taken up in this shaft some time ago, after only a temporary shifting of the work to the 340-foot level of the Columbia where some prospecting was done; and it is the same vein which has been opened in the 200-foot level of the Hasler shaft, and presumably that which was found in the work from the Columbia, which is now showing up promisingly in the bottom level.

The Hasler claim lies alongside the Columbia and has not been supposed to be in the main of the main system of veins which crosses Beacon hill at this point; but development work in the deep workings of the El Paso has gone to show that there are transverse lodes of slight importance; and stringers, also, from the main veins, might easily find their way into the C. K. and N. ground. Mr. Granfield is a thorough miner, and the work is being carefully and intelligently done.

ROSE NICOL OPENS TWO LODES

The Discovery Was Made by Lessee Steelsmith in the 400-foot Level—Good Terms to Lessees Pay.

At a depth of 300 feet in the Gurley claim of the Rose Nico company Lessee Steelsmith has opened a vein which promises to be a shipping proposition. The lode was cut in running a drift north from the main shaft. It is about three feet wide and assays around two ounces in gold to the ton. It is thought that the ore will ship around $30 per ton straight through. The vein still requires development to prove the value of the present find, but being a well-defined one, with promising-looking rock, the lessee is inclined to congratulate himself. It is thought that the vein is the same one from which some production has been made in the Gurley tunnel, above the drift.

Previous to the granting of this lease to Mr. Steelsmith last October the Rose Nicol company had done a considerable amount of development work at this depth, but had drifted south, toward the Portland property, believing that the best chances were in that direction. Mr. Steelsmith decided to try the other way, and in his progress up the claim, he has cut several veins in a distance of 300 feet, all of which carry some values, but it is the last of them which is looking so promising.

Since the company decided to forego work on its own account and adopt the leasing system, there has been more or less trouble in securing good lessees. Finally, the Reed investment company which controls the Rose Nicol, decided that advantageous terms including long leases and reasonable royalties should be extended to lessees, with the result that one of the most successful operators in the camp, Mr. Amos Steelsmith, who made a good thing of the Findley, and several other well-known lessees took hold of blocks of ground, and a total of 310 shifts is now being accomplished every month on the property.

FINE DEVELOPMENT FOR GOLD DOLLAR

Equipment Which Will Complete Work Within Two Months—Blocks of Property Leased, and Producing Leases.

An equipment which will place the Gold Dollar Consolidated property on a pay with the big mines of the district has been ordered by the company, and will be erected over the Mabel M. shaft as soon as possible. The foundations are already in and it is expected that there will be little delay in getting the new plant in place.

This is to consist of a hoist with a capacity for operating to a depth of 1,500 feet, boilers to the capacity of 250 horse-power and a five-drill compressor. The buildings to accommodate the different equipment, and the gallows frame for the new hoist are now in progress of erection.

Shipments have been resumed from the Mabel M. shaft, and development work is in progress to make the various connections between the Mabel M. and the Gold Dollar workings. The Gold Dollar tunnel will be used to suite an extent by the company all the water being pumped to this level, which may be encountered in the future, and it is probable that provision will be made through the channel as well. The Mabel M. shaft, however, is to be utilized as the main workings for the property, and as soon as the new equipment is in it will be pushed from its present depth, 460 feet, to the 600-foot point.

The new management has leased many portions of the ground out to responsible persons since the consolidation was effected, and the ground is now more generally active than it has ever been. The upper levels of the Gold Dollar workings are showing up well under the operations of the lessees.

MINING NOTES AROUND TOWN

Notice was posted on the bulletin board of the exchange yesterday to the effect that the Cuito Gold Mining company had ceased to have its stock registered with any trust company, and that it would therefore, in compliance with the rules of the exchange, have to suffer a dismissal from the lists of the exchange on March 1 unless proofs were made to resume the registration. A so that no certificates would be passed through the clearing house which had not properly been vouched for by such trust companies as the exchange recognizes.

MORE RUMORS OF DEAL FOR HOME CLAIM.

The deal for the Home claim on Beacon hill belonging to the Commonwealth Gold Mining company which has been under way quietly for some time, involves a total consideration of $90,000 from the Star Gold Mining company, a corporation comprising Illinois investors who spent a large amount of money in several places in the district. The company expended a round sum on its own property three miles south of Victor without realizing satisfactory results. About one year ago it began leasing on Beacon hill. If the ore which has been found in the Home fraction holds out as well as it seems now may be the case after the necessary sinking and drifting has been carried on, the property will in all probability pass into the possession of the Star company, which at present practically hold control of it. The ore shoot is a large one, carrying average values of fully $35 per ton, so far as it has been possible to sample it.

COMANCHE PEAKS DEVELOPING NICELY.

Marshall Bowers and associates, leasing on the properties of the Comanche Plume on Battle mountain, is developing a shipper. A good-sized shipment has accumulated in the bins, but the lessee will be compelled to construct a wagon road or build a shoot before he will be able to market his ore, as Battle mountain is exceedingly precipitous at the point where the workings are located.

STRATTON'S NEW SHAFT OF OTHER PROPERTIES.

The shaft which W. S. Stratton is proposing to start on the south side of Bull hill to develop his Independence claims will be six and a half by 10 feet in the clear, divided into four compartments. If the plan is carried out it will make the largest shaft in the Cripple Creek district. Surveys are to be made at once to determine the proper place for the shaft at some point south of the Midland Terminal railway track within the limits of the town of Independence. It is the most important enterprise which Mr. Stratton will undertake at the east end of the district during the present year.

OUTPUT OF THE EL PASO GOLD KING.

The big station at the 800-foot level on the El Paso Gold King is about finished. The mine is outputting from 60 to 80 tons a day. The average value is about $40 to the ton.

INSPECTION OF THE NEW BROMIDE MILL.

The directors of the Short Line, members of the local chamber of commerce and directors of the Telluride Reduction company, were taken in a special car by the management of the latter company Tuesday afternoon to inspect the new bromide mill building in Colorado City by the Telluride company. The party left the D. & R. G. depot at 2:30, returning later in the afternoon. The immense plant is rapidly assuming finished proportions, and was explained in detail to the guests.

REDCAP DRAINAGE SCHEME ENJOYS SMOOTHER MOVEMENT.

A large number of prominent mine owners assembled yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Reduction Drainage & Deep Mining company to discuss ways and means for the construction of an immense deep drainage tunnel through the larger properties of Cripple Creek. Mr. H. R. Von Reuteau reported considerable encouragement from European advices. No details of today's meeting were given out.

DECREASE OF VALUES IN ORE FROM CRIPPLE CREEK.

Ore running from $30 to $100 per ton, the result of washing, is being sent from the leases held by the Cripple Creek leasing company on the Bindicator. Eight carloads were shipped last week and one carload yesterday.

Lessees Sexsmith and Thorson are shipping 40 ore from stope 4 around 6 of the Gold Dollar Consolidated on Beacon hill. They sent out 10 tons a few days ago and will make other settlements. The ore has to be sorted carefully.

The Beacon Mining and Leasing company received returns today from the 8-ton shipment sent out last week. The ore was settled for at the rate of $40 a ton. The lessees producing a shipper last week made per month of ... ounces of ore.

A New Remedy for Catarrh Is Very Valuable.

A Grand Rapids gentleman who represents a prominent manufacturing concern and travels through central and southern Michigan, relates the following regarding the new catarrh cure. He says:

"After suffering from catarrh of the head, throat and stomach for several years, I heard of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets quite accidentally and like everything else, I immediately bought a package and was decidedly surprised at the immediate relief. It afforded me and still more to find a complete cure after several weeks' use.

"I have a little son who sings in a boys' choir in one of our prominent churches and he is greatly troubled with hoarseness and throat weakness, and on my return home from a trip I gave him a few of the tablets one Sunday morning when he had complained of hoarseness. He was delighted with their effect, removing all huskiness in a few minutes and making the voice clear and strong.

"As the tablets are very pleasant to the taste, I had no difficulty in persuading him to use them regularly.

"Our family physician told us they were an antiseptic preparation of undoubted merit and that he himself had no hesitation in using and recommending Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for any form of catarrh.

"I have since met many public speakers and professional singers who use them constantly. A prominent Detroit lawyer told me that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets kept his throat in fine shape during the most trying weather and that he had long since discarded the use of cheap lozenges and troches on the advice of his physician that they contained so much tolu, potash and opium as to render their use a danger to health."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large, pleasant tasting lozenges composed of catarrhal antiseptics, like Red Gum, Blood Root, etc., and sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents for full treatment.

They act upon the blood and mucous membrane and their composition and remarkable success has won the approval of physicians as well as thousands of sufferers from nasal catarrh, throat troubles and catarrh of the stomach.

A little book on treatment of catarrh mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

the Sheriff. Some ore was shipped a few years ago from this portion of the territory.

Ruinous Taxation in Cripple Creek—Keep the Ball Rolling.

Editor of the Gazette.

Dear Sir: In the Sunday Gazette of February 9 was an article on the ruinous taxation of unproductive mining property in the Cripple Creek district.

Every mining man connected with mining in Teller county knows that the conditions mentioned in the said article are in the main true. That the companies owning unproductive mining property in the Cripple Creek district will be wiped out in a very few years if the present system of taxation is persisted in.

In view of the condition of affairs how can the brokers advise their clients to buy these stocks or how can the Colorado Springs Mining Stock Exchange expect to live and do business after 80 per cent. of the listed stocks are wiped out of existence and the holders of them have lost every cent they put in them yet this is the situation that is staring them in the face at the present time. The question next arises what are the mining exchange and the brokers doing about it or what are they going to do about it? Are they going to sit quietly down, fold their hands and watch the politics sharks of Cripple Creek rob them of their property? The apathy that has fallen on the stock market lately seems to have spread its mantle over the members of the exchange, the brokers and the mining men in general.

They all admit that the situation is bad, desperate even, but no one appears to want to take the lead in procuring a remedy. That the above situation exists in Cripple Creek is due to the fact that the people who pay 75 per cent. of the taxes of Teller county do not reside in the county and have no voice in the selection of its officers. It is reasonably safe to say that the voters who elected the present assessor of Teller county do not pay 10 per cent. of the taxes of the county. This is one of the evils that arise from the freedom of the franchise in our country. It appears to be no trouble for a wily politician to convince the average laboring man that the cause of all his woes is that the corporations are not paying their share of the taxes. The miners of Cripple Creek have repeatedly voted against their employers' interests and in favor of a gang of politicians whose main object in life is the robbing of these employers.

The first assessor of Teller county was a good business man and a large taxpayer in the district. He was appointed by the governor and served a year. When nomination day came around he was turned down in the convention by his own party because he would not consent to the extortion and unjust taxation law was to be enforced against the owners of property who did not live in the district. But they got their beau ideal in Lyngat who is now in Denver engaged in trying to induce our solons to enact laws that will allow him to tax mining property still higher. One of the worst features of this question is that it is not the wealthy mine owner who could afford it that suffers but the poorer people who have not yet struck many of the miners in the district will be the owners as they frequently buy stock in the company from which they are mining. It now requires 10 times the amount of money to run the district that it did three years ago and to all appearances the gain is making hay while the sun shines, but the clouds are rising and the chances are that they are serving their last term.

One of their number expressed the sentiments and fearness of the ring a few days ago when since what they were going to do with all the money they were receiving. When he exclaimed, "Why — we will use it to keep ourselves in power in this county."

"The state legislature is now in session and it is with the efforts of the exchange and the brokers that they use every means in their power to secure legislation that will relieve their property from such unjust taxation. Should they fail in securing relief from our representatives, which there seems to be every reason to believe they will, there is another remedy which should be resorted to, namely, a tax strike. If we should refuse to pay taxes on the known value and not on as we have assessed them, if we should the courts of Cripple Creek, if we should refuse to pay taxes on every ton of ... ore shipped. They would ... property was taxed the same as mining property in other counties in the state.

We ask no favors; I believe the taxpayers of Cripple Creek would pay without a murmur higher taxes than are paid by any other county in the United States but when it comes to be as it is from 5,000 to 10,000 per cent higher than they are in any other county the burden becomes unbearable. The advocates of this system of taxation use as an argument that an unproductive mining claim that would sell for $25,000 should pay the same amount of taxes as a city block that would sell for the same amount. But there is a vast difference between the two. A city block would rent for $2,000 per year while a mining claim of the same value would not rent for anything at all the lessee only agreeing to pay part of the proceeds from the sale of part of the property provided he sees any of it that is worth selling. The selling value of this class of property is a purely speculative one and it has no income producing value until ore is marketed from it, therefore it is only just and right that it should pay taxes on its known value and not on as we have assessed them. If we should the courts of Cripple Creek if we should refuse to pay taxes on every ton of ... ore shipped. They would ...

Bilious Colic.

H. Seaver, a carpenter and builder of Newton, Tenn., when suffering intensely from an attack of bilious colic, sent to a nearby drug store for something to relieve him. The drug clerk sent him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, three doses of which effected a permanent cure. This is the only remedy that can be depended upon in the most severe cases of colic and cholera morbus. Most druggists know this and recommend it when such a medicine is called for. THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, Feb. 12.—The market today showed some signs of activity in certain stocks which were weak otherwise there was no improvement. The activity took the shape of declines in Elkton. El Paso and Isabella, with some slight demand for a well distributed lot of preferred prospects traders. A few fractional advances were scored in the latter—the market, especially in this list, is extremely sensitive to a slight demand, as it is to a slight supply, the functions of the board appearing crippled to a degree; but there is no lack of evidence that a small-sized sensation would find stocks responsive. Elkton lost over three cents, closing at $1.31½ and El Paso declined to 59½, Leralization.

thinks, that the banking house of which you were the head made an immense amount of money from the handling of the Government loans. What are the facts?

"All wrong! A most unwarrantable error," replies the financier. "Two hundred thousand dollars would cover all the profits that the banking house of Jay Cooke & Co. received for the negotiation of over two billions of dollars' worth of government loans. Of course, the immensity of the transaction and the far-and-wide advertising that we carried on, added to the prestige of the house. But the percentages that we received for our negotiations were as much smaller than those given by other nations as the amounts we handled were larger than those of any other war loans known. And we assumed all risks, too, which I understand is not the case with the agents engaging abroad in the financing of wars. In Europe some great house like Rothschilds places the loan—simply financiering it and not taking the risk of a dollar—and receives for it two or two and a half per cent. in commissions. How different the case with us! On the loan I have been telling you about, we had one-half per cent. on the first ten million dollars, and three-eighths per cent. on all beyond that. That rate was continued until Mr. McCulloch became secretary of the treasury in March, 1865, and he reduced it to one-quarter per cent. Very unwarrantably, I do. Out of that three-eighths per cent. we had to pay our subagents, advertising accounts and other expenses. You can see about how little was left. But the matter of our supposedly large profits was made the subject of much talk in congress and the newspapers during the war, all chiefly directed against Mr. Chase by his political enemies, who charged him with favoritism in appointing me as special financial agent and thereby allowing me to make fabulous sums. It was all calumny and was refuted fully at the time, but sprang to life again and again, as such things will."

Jay Cooke's Profits Out of the Government Loans.

Alfred Mathews, in an interesting article entitled "Jay Cooke, Federal Financier," which appears in the February number of The Era, gives a conversation with Mr. Cooke upon the profits his banking house received from the enormous government loans negotiated during the civil war period. A part of this conversation follows:

"The public long thought Mr. Cooke, and probably a little fraction of it still

BEAUTIFUL CHILDREN

Made Well and Strong by Pe-ru-na.

A Letter From a Grateful Mother to Dr. S. B. Hartman.

Mrs. G. W. Heard, of Howth, Texas, writes to Dr. Hartman in regard to her baby girl, Ruth:

"My little girl was two years old in January. She had some derangement of the bowels. She was a mere skeleton and we did not think she would ever get well. She had been sick three or four months, and after giving her less than one bottle of Peruna she was sound and well. I found the Peruna splendid for wind colic, with which she was troubled, when she began to improve in strength and appearance. Now she has a good appetite and is a picture of health."

Mrs. Heard also writes in regard to her son, Carl:

"My son's ears had been affected since he was a babe only a few months old. He seemed to have risings in his head. He would be very fretful for several days, then his ears would run profusely what appeared to be corruption. The last year I thought he had almost lost his hearing and had a local physician treating him for about six weeks. He pronounced him well and for a few weeks he was not troubled, but since that time the discharge from his ears was almost constant and very offensive. Finally I began giving him your remedy, and after he had taken two bottles he was entirely cured. I cannot praise Peruna enough."

MRS. G. W. HEARD.

Mrs. C. E. Long, the mother of little Mina Lone, writes from Atwood, Colo., as follows:

"When I wrote you for advice my little three-year-old girl had a cough that has been troubling her for four months. She took cold easily, and would wheeze and have spells of coughing that would sometimes last for a half-hour. We doctored all winter without relief.

"Now we can never thank you enough for the change you have made in our little one's health. Before she began taking your Peruna she suffered everything in the way of cough, colds and croup, but now she has taken not quite a bottle of Peruna, and is well and strong as she has ever been in her life. She has not had the croup once since she began taking Peruna, and when she has a little cold a few doses of Peruna fixes her out all right. We can never praise it enough. We tell everyone about it who has any ailment. We want to keep it always in the house. You may use my name anywhere in its praise."

MRS. C. E. LONG.

A Doctor's Little Daughter Cured of Grip of Peruna.

Dr. R. Robbins, Physician and Surgeon of Muskogee, Indian Ter., writes:

"I have been a practicing physician for a good many years and was always slow to take hold of patent medicines, but this winter my little girl and myself were taken with the grippe. I was so bad I was not able to sit up. I sent for a doctor, but he did me no good. I had such a cough; it would not let me rest day or night. I got so weak and prostrated and nervous that I could hardly stand alone and I was all broken up. My system seemed to be all deranged.

"Finally I thought I would take anything to be cured, so I sent and got a bottle of Peruna and commenced to take it. I took two bottles and my cough was gone and my lungs loosened up and my head became clear. Then I could both hear and smell and the pain left my stomach and limbs. I want you to know the grippe laid me instead of me having the grippe, and my little girl took the same way.

"It looked as though she would die, she was so sick. I gave her medicine, but it semed to do her very little good, so I sent and got one more bottle of Peruna and commenced to give it to her. It was only a short time until she was getting along all right, so I give your medicine, Peruna, the praise for what it did for me and my dear little daughter."

"I have told everyone it is the best medicine for catarrh of head, lungs, stomach and nervous prostration."

DR. R. ROBBINS.

Mrs. Schafer, 436 Pope Ave., St. Louis, Mo., writes:

"In the early part of last year I wrote to you for advice for my daughter, Alice, four years of age.

"She has been a puny, sickly, ailing child since her birth. She had convulsions and catarrhal fevers. I was always doctoring until we commenced to use Peruna. She grew strong and well. Peruna is a wonderful tonic, the best medicine I have ever used.

"I was in a very wretched condition when I commenced to take Peruna. I had catarrh all through my whole body, but thank God, your medicine set me all right. I would not have any other medicine.

"Peruna cured my baby boy of a very bad spell of cold and fever. He is a big, healthy boy fifteen months old. I have given him Peruna off and on since he was born. I think that is why he is so well. I cannot praise Peruna enough. We have not had a doctor since we began to use Peruna—all praise to it."

MRS. SCHAFER.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

COLORADO CITY NEWS

COLORADO CITY, COLO., FEBRUARY 12, 1903.—OFFICE—R. T. GODFREY'S DRUG STORE, 505 COLORADO AVENUE.

Met to Organize a Gas and Oil Co.

The mass meeting called last night in the city hall to consider the oil and gas problems now discussed by the citizens of this city was called to order by J. O. Bates, chairman of the chamber of commerce oil committee, and J. P. Bates was elected as temporary chairman, with Mr. George F. Geiger as temporary secretary.

Messrs. J. P. Bates and W. P. Epperson were called upon to explain the business before the meeting, and the motion being made that a committee of five be appointed to constitute a soliciting committee, the names of Adam Geiger, chairman, J. P. Bates, J. P. Jackson, C. D. Taylor and W. D. Ascough were proposed and these gentlemen were elected to form the committee.

A committee to secure land leases was next elected, consisting of John Murray, chairman, W. P. Epperson and H. C. Kinsman. Adam Geiger was elected as trustee to whom the leases are to be made over as secured, he to hold them for the uses and benefit of the company, and to transfer them to the company when the organization is completed.

The matter of capital stock and incorporation was next acted upon and it was finally decided to incorporate under the laws of Wyoming with a capital stock to consist of 1,500,000 shares of a value of two cents each. It was decided that 500,000 shares should be placed on the market at once, the same number of shares to be held in reserve for 30 days after oil or gas is struck, at the option of the holders of the first block of stock, they to be entitled to make a second investment equal to their first. The remaining half million shares to be held as treasury stock.

The sale of the first block of stock will, it is believed, provide the funds necessary for the sinking of the well, as $10,000 is the amount estimated as needed to make a good start. The list of the men having agreed to take stock in the new company was then started in this way, though the absence of a number of the signers prevented the required $10,000 mark being reached. It is thought, however, that the committee will be able to secure the sale of the greater part of the first half million shares before the next meeting, which will be held next Tuesday evening at the same place. At this time the two committees will have done a considerable amount of their work, and upon their report hinges to a large degree, the success of the proposed organization. If the plan for this kind of a company does not prove to be a success, it is understood that there are 50 men in the city who will form a company, each subscribing $200, and they will take up the work. These gentlemen are hoping for the success of the "poor man's" company, however, and will give it their share of assistance toward success.

COMMITTEE INSPECTED TELLURIDE WORKS

A committee from the local chamber of commerce yesterday met with a committee from the chamber of the Springs for the purpose of inspecting the new reduction works south of the city, upon invitation of the owners of the mills. The committee from this city was composed of W. D. Ascough, J. M. Jackson, C. D. Taylor, F. Beyle, George Geiger, C. E. Corporan, Anthony Rott, N. B. Haines, M. T. Burwell and W. J. Snider, who was appointed to take the place of W. P. Epperson, the latter being unable to go. These men met the Springs representatives at the D. & R. G. depot and the party took a special train over the Short Line, going first to the works of the Telluride company and there making a thorough inspection of the plant. The party was then taken to the Portland mill, and were shown through the entire plant. The delegation from this city was much interested in the oil well, which they found had reached a depth of 1,736 feet.

PRACTICING

SPRINGS SHOTS ARE PREPARING FOR COMING EVENTS.

Practice Shoot Held Yesterday at Broadmoor—Local Gunners to Participate in American Handicap at Kansas City.

Colorado Springs shots are practicing almost every day for important contests which are scheduled to take place soon. An extra shoot was held yesterday afternoon at Broadmoor, the scores being good. Those who were out were W. R. Mason of Durango, Garrett, Shemwell, Dorsey, Montgomery, Sanderson and McFarland.

Shemwell made high average with Garrett second. Garrett was handicapped by the fact that he used a new gun, just from the factory.

There will be much more practice shooting now until the time for the Grand American Handicap shoot, which is to be held at Kansas City March 31 to April 5. A number of Colorado Springs shots expect to take part in the handicap.

Local gunners are also preparing for the state trophy challenge shoot, which takes place here on Washington's birthday.

HAD A BIG HUNT BUT FOUND NOTHING

A party of lovers of the chase went out to the Thornton pastures yesterday and spent the day. The party rode more than 40 miles but did not see anything in the nature of game throughout the day.

Those in the party, besides Joe Kenyon, were: Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Butler Williamson, Miss Nina Crosby, Mrs. Chamberlain, Mrs. Farnsworth and Mrs. F. C. Smith, Messrs. Mellen, Stein, Scott, Schley, Vesey, Sherwin and Shewalter.

AMERICAN LEAGUE MEN WILL VISIT THE CITY

A party of American league players is expected in the city within a few days. They have been spending the winter in California, playing with the various teams, and they are now en route home. There are about a dozen in the party.

Some of the players are accompanied by their wives and the party will stop here at the instance of William Hulen, formerly of this city. They were to leave the coast yesterday.

HULEN WILL PLAY BALL IN CALIFORNIA

Billie Hulen, who managed the Millionaires last season, will play with Los Angeles this season. While all of the arrangements have not been made he has practically agreed to play with the team in that city.

Since leaving here Hulen has been playing ball a part of the time and in a letter to a friend here he says that he has been doing exceptionally well. He has been playing in left field and has been doing good work with the stick.

Hulen's parents live at Dixon, Calif.

YOUNG ROOSEVELT MORE THAN HOLDS HIS OWN

By Associated Press.

Groton, Mass., Feb. 11.—The reports from the sick room of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., the eldest son of the president, who since Thursday last has been ill with pneumonia at the Groton school infirmary, tend to show an improvement and at 8 o'clock tonight his condition was authoritatively stated to be better than it was at the same time last night.

The crisis of the disease is still to come and is looked for within the next 24 or 36 hours. The president and his wife believe their son will meet this crisis in good shape and, passing it successfully, will recover. In fact the slight favorable turn in the disease today has greatly relieved the strain on both of them and the day closed much more cheerfully than yesterday. Still, the reports issued through Mr. Cortelyou, secretary to the president, ran between hope and fear.

Beginning with the morning, when the boy, after an admittedly hard night, was reported as improved, although pleurisy in the right lung was mentioned, this favorable tendency was continued through the noon statement. Then at 2:45 p. m., it was stated that the boy's temperature had risen and that it would remain high and if anything increase a little toward morning. This somber tone seemed almost to neutralize the morning's encouraging notes.

The next report, at 8:30 in the evening, showed that, notwithstanding the high temperature the boy had more than held his own during the day and that his condition was favorable. Hopefulness was increased by an additional and voluntary report on Mr. Cortelyou's part at 8 o'clock that the lad was in better condition than at the same time last night although he said there had not been much change during the day—meaning that the favorable condition of the morning had been practically maintained.

All the reports were authoritative and in addition there was a cheery interview with Secretary Long after a hurried visit of courtesy to his chief in which he frankly said that the boy was better.

To confirm this came the president's sudden appearance, a little later in the afternoon, in the new sporting dome, a recreation house built by Mr. Gardner adjoining his own mansion. The president was dressed in a suit of flannels, and seemed ready for some exercise on the new squash court. He did not play, however, although he remained in the gymnasium building nearly two hours, watching a game between Mrs. James Lawrence and Rev. Sherard Billings.

Another interesting event of the day was the receipt of a telegram from Ambassador Paunefote at Washington, conveying King Edward's expression of sympathy for the president and hope for the speedy recovery of his son.

TERRIFIC WIND STORM IN NEVADA DESERTS

By Associated Press.

Salt Lake, Feb. 11.—A special to the Herald, from Reno, Nev., says:

Since early this morning the wide stretch of desert in western and central Nevada has been swept by a wind storm that at times has approached the proportions of a hurricane. At several points on the Central Pacific between Reno and Elko the wind at times blew at the rate of 80 miles an hour, and though no serious damage to property has been reported, delayed trains, prostrated telegraph wires and long stretches of rail almost buried in sand all of the force of the gale. Vast clouds of sand, picked up by the gale, were hurled across the country, with fourfold force and at Wadsworth, Deeroty, Thistle and other towns business was practically suspended all afternoon, it being almost impossible for people to breathe while facing the drifting whirling walls of dust and sand. At Deseret and Mirage the sand filled the air to such an extent that the sun was obscured and lamps were necessary. At Humboldt house about 40 miles west of Winnemucca, the few people who ventured out of doors beheld a peculiar sight. About eight miles south of the town is a mountain, rising abruptly from the sandy desert. The wind, sweeping across the flat country caught the snow of this hill and seemed to stretch it out for two or three miles from the slopes. Through occasional breaks in the clouds of dust across the plain between the town and the mountain the middle slopes could be seen, apparently swept bare of snow in a few hours by the terrific force of the wind. The storm tonight shows but little sign of abatement.

ANTLERS BOWLING TEAM BROKE RECORD

The Antlers bowling team broke its record for the total number of pins in a contest in the game with the Colorado Springs club on the Antlers alleys last night. The Antlers players made a total of 2,562 pins in three games, or an average of 170 per man. They won the contest by 338 pins and took all three games.

The game was interesting, although the Antlers players easily outplayed their opponents. Abernathy made his first appearance with the Springs team and had the top score for his side with 185, Taylor of the Antlers made the high score of the game, with 225. Ansley's average was 186. The score follows:

RECEIVER FOR A WRECKED DETROIT BANK

By Associated Press.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 11.—A receiver will be appointed by Judge Donovan tomorrow morning for the wrecked City Savings bank. At a hearing this afternoon at the chancery court on the appointment of a receiver the county officers and the local board of education ordered the appointment of the Union Trust company of this city, which was the choice of Banking Commissioner Malta, and the attorney-general. The chief officers and the board of education maintained that some of the officers of the Union Trust company were interested in the banks which hold the $962,000 worth of certified checks drawn by Frank C. Andrews, former vice president of the City Savings bank, and contended that a receiver should be appointed who was entirely disinterested. They advocated the appointment of John M. Nicoll of this city. After hearing the arguments Judge Donovan reserved his decision until tomorrow morning.

Cashier H. R. Andrews, who is seriously ill with nervous prostration and heart trouble, is improved greatly today.

STATEMENT OF FAITH FOR POPULAR USE

By Associated Press.

Philadelphia, Feb. 11.—The Presbyterian revision committee resumed its labors today confining its attention to the brief statement of faith for popular use. The brief statement contains 16 chapters or sections, which were formulated by the committee last December at Washington, D. C. The committee is now going over the statement chapter by chapter, and making changes where they are thought to be necessary. The first three chapters as outlined at the session in Washington were reviewed today and conclusions reached in the first two. Three sections are entitled: Chapter I, Revelation and the rule of faith; chapter II, God; chapter III, Eternal purpose. The committee will not give out what was adopted but it is understood no important changes have been made.

The revision committee will adjourn next Friday regardless of what progress has been made. Another meeting will have to be held before the opening of the general assembly which will convene May 15 in New York so as to wind up all unfinished business.

Usefulness in good looks are wedded in the uniform Blue Book on Advertising issued by the J. Walter Thompson Co., the well known advertising agents of New York, Chicago and Boston. In this handsome blue cover with blue paper and blue ink to which artistic typography and fine illustrations add their part, the volume is a most attractive one. The contents are similarly choice and out of the ordinary. Not attempting to be encyclopedic, the book makes a leading feature a very carefully selected list of the best advertising media in the United States and Canada. The best dailies, weeklies and magazines are given with their estimated circulations and lists of advertising agents, with a little personal memo. and opinion each publication.

Some excellent advice as to methods of work follows, and nearly 40 pages of samples of advertisements placed by this firm add to the value of the book, which will be a constant desk companion of every progressive business man.

GIDDINGS BROTHERS

Fashionable Predictions for the Coming Season

SHIRT WAISTS

Mrs. Lobjoin will rule in the element of style and neatness this spring. The Shirt Waist will see an early opening this year. A long line of heavy waists will hasten the decline to wear the lighter weight apparel. Our advance showing is here. See them.

A word or two of the strongest fashion tendencies in fabrics. Despite the fact, in both woolen and wash goods, there is no adherence to any set form of design, nearly every sample in our mammoth spring assortment possesses a character of beauty all its own.

SPRING VEILINGS

Veiling styles are dependent to a great extent upon millinery modes. Hence the veiling buyer must be in touch with all new millinery styles. With this in mind our veiling buyer has chosen a line for spring remarkably complete. New embroidered designs in chiffon and net.

SHIRT PATTERNS

Probably the best dress in your new wardrobe will be the Grenadine. This year it will be worn and lace effects will prove a most delightful vision to admirers of stylish Grenadines. Black, black and white and colored patterns profusely shown, also the silk and wool effects.

In wash goods, ginghams will be more popular than ever, the mercerized and silk effects will receive their share, also Batiste's and Swisses, dress colors will be favored.

In wooden and silk goods the Grenadines and Foulards will be more popular.

NEW FOULARDS, SILKS [illegible]

The styles are so numerous and tasty that it is impossible to possess all upon first opening. All patterns come in dress lengths so the possibility of duplication is avoided.

NEW WOOLEN GOODS

New texture are so many that it is impossible to predict what will be most favored. The newest colors shown in Veilings, Satiates, Cliffs, Chalices, Hemlettas, Flannels, Cassaves, Granites, Worsteds, Whipcords, Serges, Cheviots, Canvas, Flannels, Barriges, Satin Finish, Bedford Cords, Granite, Briggs, Tailor Suitings, etc.

BARGAINS

We stumbled upon this lot and bought them cheap. They are black cream lawn, polka dot with wide cord. Very stylish and for waists and suits. Would sell at $1.50 yard. $.25

WHITE GOODS

MEN, your chance to economize has arrived. Don't let your extravagance eat up the profits of your wife's economy, but benefit yourself by these $1.25, $1.50 muslin and sateen Night Robes that we are closing out for. 75c

FAST COLORS

Many colors are caught from even so slight exposures. These exposures are encountered numerous times each day. One of these for Wed. Fast colors in proof, and can be slipped on in an instant. Were 50c. 7½ now. 4½c
